LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Jack:

Just received the June "Letter" and noted that the Portland Chess Club "swamped" the O.S.C. Club by 10 to 0. We, of course, are ashamed of our drubbing, but it was something like Michigan defeating Tryhard College in football---we were outgunned and outmanned. I have nothing but respect for the Portland Club; they are good, unequivocally and unambiguously. The man who played me on Board 4, I understand, recently came from some big tournaments in Germany; one of the words he has learned to say in good English is "checkmate".

I should like to see the champion Puget Sound League team--Tacoma--play Portland. Better yet, I'd stake my money on Portland if you took the best 5 or 7 players from your whole league! (Now if I can just get you boys mad enough, you'll send Portland a challenge.) That would be a match I'd sell my spectacles to see without!

Fraternally,

Larry Hagen

We think you have something there, Larry Hagen! That'd really be sump'n to see. Better keep yer specs on tho, bekuz we are a little prejudiced up here. Yessir! We think a team composed of Patterson, Neale, Joachim, Crain, Holmes, etc. could match or maybe beat your Portland team. Well, there it is!! Now all we gotta do is challenge somebody. How about it fellow Puget Sounders, are we gonna stand fer sech insolence? --Ed.

The Fourth of July holiday will have a "chessy flavor" this year. The main event will be the greatest International Chess Match ever staged. The 3000 mile borderline of the United States and Canada will represent the "battle line" where the big chess armies of the two nations will clash with Rooks and Pawns. The International Chess Match will be held on July 3rd; details of the Washington vs. British Columbia section will be found on another page in this issue.

Down in Portland they'll be holding the three-day Portland Open under the capable direction of Arthur Duke, the Portland master. The tournament will be held July 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. It's too bad that these two events are being staged at the same time because there are several chess players here that would participate in both events if possible.

Jack Nourse's appointment to the position of WCF President is looked upon by many as a new step forward for chess in Washington. One of the "chess pioneers" in this region, it was mainly through Jack's efforts that the Puget Sound Chess League was formed. A lot of progress is looked for during the "Nourse Administration".

Jimmy Amidon's rise to the top of the tree in the Puget Sound Open was quite a surprise. Although there was only one player entered who held the title of "Chess Expert" (Joachim), there were several others who figured to finish above the new champ according to previous performance. But Jim fooled 'em---and he really earned the top place in the tournament so look out for Amidon in the future!

APPLICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP IN THE WASHINGTON CHESS FEDERATION ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED BY W. H. RALIEGH, 4313 DENSMORE, SEATTLE 3, WASH. TELL YOUR CHESS PLAYING FRIENDS TO INVESTIGATE THIS OPPORTUNITY OR TAKE ADVANTAGE YOURSELF OF THE FREE OFFER GIVEN IN THE JUNE ISSUE!!!

AMIDON WINS!

Jim Amidon, U. of W. student apparently has been very studious at chess recently because he won himself a big tournament and the new title of "Chess Expert" in the recent Puget Sound Open held at Everett.

The new Champ was as surprised as the next guy when he topped the tough field with 4 wins, no losses and 2 draws. Dick Allen was nipping at the heels of the leader at the close of the tournament with 5 wins and one loss. Although Amidon won over Allen in their game, it took the Sonnenborn-Berger System to break the tie giving Amidon 19½ points to Allen's 18.

While collecting the top prize money, Jim remarked: "I only hope this 15 bucks in some way compensates for the two subjects I am flunking by not staying home and studying for the exams". Allen received the second prize of five dollars.

In third place was William Gilson, a strong Everett chess player. Although Gilson has lived in Everett for some time, he was "discovered" for the first time when he walked in to enter the tournament, by Larry Tero, the tournament director. Third prize was a free membership in the WCF and subscription to the WCL.

A pre-tourney favorite, State Champ, Charles Joachim dropped 2½ points on the second day of play after leading the field with Dick Allen (3-0) at the close of the opening day's play.

Shown above is probable "Rocket Ship's Eye View" of the giant chess battle which will rage July 3rd along the full length of the Canadian - U. S. border.

The westernmost encounter will be the struggle between the chess teams of the State of Washington and the Province of British Columbia. The match will be played at Seattle in the P. I. Auditorium at Fourth and Wall. Arrangements for the use of the Auditorium were made by Mr. T. Davidsen, Match Committee Chairman and Mr. C. C. Bushnell. The use of the Auditorium is being given free of charge by the P. I.

Registration time is set for 1:00 P.M. with the match scheduled to get under way at 2:00 P.M. There will be a playing time limit of three hours. Games that are still in progress at 5 o'clock will be adjudicated.

Tom Cannon, Jack Nourse, Robert Stork, Henry Amsden, and Ray LaFever will form the reception committee which will welcome the Canadian players.

After play has terminated and the winning team determined, the trophy will be awarded. Also, "Oscars" will be presented by the Washington Chess Federation to the persons who have done the most for Washington chess in the past three years.

EN PASSANT

by Dick Allen

Uppermost in the mind of every chess fan in these here parts is the International Match to be held July 3, 1949, in the Seattle P.I. auditorium. The British Columbia Chess Federation is invading territory sacred to the Washington Chess Federation. This will be but one segment of the all-out offensive along the entire 3,000 mile border with our friendly chess enemy, the Canadian Chess Federation. The U.S. Chess Federation is coordinating our efforts with those other states who defend the border against neighboring provinces.

It was agreed last year at the chess-peace conference in Everett, that each year we would have another battle. The battle-ground would not fall north of Vancouver nor south of Seattle. Also it was agreed that the choice would be made alternately by the British Columbia Chess Federation and the Washington Chess Federation.

Last year, the B.C.C.F. chose Vancouver. The match ended in a dead-lock and they kept the trophy. Our supply lines broke down, some of our best sharpshooters never reached the front line and we had to rush in raw recruits into key positions at the last minute. Our troops were tired and dusty after the forced march and did well to fight the Canadians to a stand still on their home-ground.

In 1947, the match was held in Blaine, Wash., at the peace Arch Park--a lavish spectacle indeed, with the tables placed over a white ribbon of cloth two feet wide, extending thru the Peace Arch--symbolizing the border. The Canadians wore Empire hats and the Washingtonians wore traditional Uncle Sam hats.

In 1946, Mt. Vernon was the site for the battle royal. During the dinner which followed, several chess notables gave their blow-by-blow version of the conflict. Mainly due to his masterful handling of this affair and the following one at Blaine, Mr. Cannon, of Mt. Vernon, has been awarded an "Oscar" by the Washington Chess Federation for distinguished service to chess.

Previous engagements took place at Vancouver in 1945 and Mount Vernon in 1944. To my knowledge, the latter was the opening of the friendly hostilities which have won increasingly enthusiastic support on all sides.

Now is the time for all good chess players to come to the aid of the cause. The Date--July 3; the Time--1:00 PM; the Place--Seattle P.I. auditorium. Bring your favorite chess sets, boards, and by all means your chess clocks if you own said luxxy--if not bring a self-starting electric clock or two. The WCF will provide switch boxes so you can plug 'em in for the match, then back on the shelf for daily use again, no worse for the unusual duty.

Another thing--better we should lose with honor than win by underhanded methods. No kicking your opponent under the table, blowing smoke in his eyes, or biting in the clinches. No singing, humming, or tapping on the table--not even a little, you know. On the other hand, keep a sharp watch to see that your opponent does not produce an extra pawn from his sleeve. And by the way, why not take your Canadian opponent over to the "Doghouse" after the match for a cup of coffee so that you can relax and listen to one or more of the fifty famous excuses for not winning..

GAMES

A chess player can often take credit for winning his opponent's games. On the other hand, can it be possible that we have wins thrust upon us? Was that long-winded mate a brilliancy, or merely a despairing gamble?

9 B-K2	P-KR3

Wishing to play B-B4, Black prepares a retreat for the Bishop against N-R4.

11 P-QR3	B-B4
12 N-K	Q-B2

14 P-B3

Ah! One hole in White's King position. N-R4 will tempt another against the threat: N-B5.

14	N-R4
15 P-N4

Here Black awoke with a start. He had simply forgotten to retreat the Bishop to R2! But Black's chances look better than he deserves. After P-K5, if White takes the Knight, Black can play P-K6. If 17 N-K4, BxPch; 18 K-R, B-R6; and the White Knight can't escape the threat: 19.....P-KB4. For example: 19 P-KB4, P-B4; 20 KxB, BxR; 21 BxB, PxN; 22 N-N2, RXP!; 23 NxR, QxNch; 24 K-R, Q-R5ch; 25 K-N, R-KB; and after 26 R-B7, White must give up his Q to escape mate. If, at move 17 White plays N-N3 to avoid the Bishop Pawn thrust, Black wins easily by BxPch; 18 K-R, Q-N6; and if 19 N-N2, B-R6 wins. After any other move by White, Black can play B-N8! and when White captures, Q-R6 mate.

16 PxP is answered by BxPch followed by Q-N6 and White is again helpless against the threat of B-N8, or, if White has played N-N2, Q-R6 wins as White cannot escape the discovered check.

White, noting the dangerous possibilities of the immediate capture played 16 BPxP and the game continued:

16	BxPch
17 K-R	N-N6ch
18 KxB

Here, 18 K-N2 gives White much better chances, although after 18....B-K3 Black seems to have the better game in all variations.

18	NxBch
19 K-R	BxNP
20 N(1)-B3	N-N6ch
21 K-N2	NxR
22 QxN	Q-Q2
23 Q-E2	P-B4
24 QR-KN	PxP

And White resigned.
