WASHINGTON CHESS LETTER

Number 6

Washington State Chess Letter ... wonderful magazine... at least there have been no letters to the contrary... but then—there have been no letters... all the latest chess news is featured...sometimes quite late... but featured nevertheless...state junior championship was held last week... we'll know who won eventually... maybe sooner maybe later... but eventually..... takes a long time to get the word.

See by the Chess Letter that the latest national rating lists(?) are out... courtesy USCF...another item states that the WCF is affiliated with that organization-goody! ...now maybe the local players inhabiting this area will rated with the accuracy inherent in a "large national organization"... maybe we should be satisfied if the USCF is satisfied... but then too many of our leading players didn't hit the lists... not too important though ... the non-rated players know how they stand...but just think of the consternation when one of minor experts loses to Zemgalis or Noland ..."But mother he wasn't rated, how was I to know he knew"...excuses!

Save July 24th for the International at Blaine! Bring the family and picnic on the beautiful grounds under the Peace Arch. Just one game will be played per person but all who come can compete. Let's make it three in a row for Washington State. See you at the Peace Arch!

H.E. YOCOM, IN MEMORIAM

H. E. Yocom passed away Sunday, June 5th. Ernest made a host of good friends in chess while playing Washington Postal and also Puget Sound League matches. Ernest played on the Olympia team for several years. Before ill health confined him to his home, Ernest frequently made trips to Seattle from his Centralia home to play in WCF tournaments. His greatest success was in the 37-player 1951 Washington Open in which he placed 7th with a 4-2 won-lost record.

This friendly competitor's loyal support of future chess events will be missed. He will not go unnoticed as he made many chess friends, some of many years standing.

UNITED STATES OPEN

In a letter to U.S. Chess Champion Arthur Bisguier with copies going to John Looney, Al Horowitz, A.W. Dake and Dan Wade, Mr. John Alexander wrote the following:

"I have been authorized by Mr. John Looney of Long Beach to make the following statement regarding the prize funds to be distributed at the Open this summer.

"While the exact amount hasn't been settled, it is hoped that the first prize will be a car or $1,500. The absolute minimum for first will be $1,000. Other cash prizes will be scaled in proportion, with the minimum for 20th place to be $50.00.

"The amounts shown in the last issue of Chess Life were merely the goals set by the Federation. We feel that it is important to pass this word around as an encouragement for players like yourself to make the long and expensive trip.

"With best luck on the Russian trip."

Regards,

John Alexander.

In a postscript Mr. Alexander writes (in part) "Dan, we're counting on the whole of Washington coming down to raise up its (censored) ratings."

1955-1956 TOURNAMENT CALENDAR

The Tournament Calendar printed on the opposite page, and to appear in modified form in every subsequent Washington Chess Letter until the end of the season is the continuation of a feature several years old. When Bob Stork was editor of WCL, he made it a practice to have the Tournament Director compile a complete calendar and have it printed each month. It served to help save conflicts, made it possible to plan one's individual tournament intentions long in advance, and aided publicity considerably. The small size of West Coast tournaments has demanded a more efficient system of scheduling and publicity planning, and thus the Tournament Director and the Publicity Director have seen fit to operate together on these things.

In all tournaments except the International and the State Speed the winner of each game must render to the Tournament Director a correct score of the game before credit will be given him for the game. The player of the white pieces will do the same in case of a draw. This is to assure a complete record of Washington tournament chess and to acquire the field of games in case brilliancy prizes may be awarded. The Tournament Director reserves the right to change any detail in any tournament announcement at any time. Complete details of round scheduling, etc., will precede each tournament in the Chess Letter.

We expect this coming tournament season, to begin with the International and then the Seafair, to be the biggest yet. All WCF tournaments will be rated in the National Rating System conducted by USCF, and this should be of some interest to the state experts. Watch your ratings!

NEW WCF CONSTITUTION?

The constitution under which WCF now operates, the 'Wade constitution' (Dan labored many hours gathering it and all the changes of it from past Chess Letters.) printed in the May, 1954, Chess Letter, is completely outdated and outmoded. It calls for tournaments that do not exist, does not properly define the roles of officers, leaves the president powerless, and even its first article is now erroneous. Worst of all the little things wrong with it is this: it sets up a system of oligarchic dictatorship for the government of chess in Washington.

New plans for a constitution, based primarily on the work done by a committee appointed for that purpose three years ago, envision a representative system of voting for the higher officers, and a general streamlining to make the constitution more operative. We hope the new constitution will be adopted by special vote of the Executive Council before too long.

WCF NOW AFFILIATED WITH USCF

Ever since the United States Chess Federation changed its rating system so that only affiliated organizations could have their tournaments rated, there had been talk among WCF officers about affiliation. But then USCF liberalized its affiliation program to the point that it is practical to be a member of USCF. It costs but $10 a year, plus 10¢ per actual game played in a tournament to have all tournaments rated. WCF will also be allowed to collect 10% on all USCF dues collected by our officers in this state, and can buy chess equipment and books at reduced prices.

In spite of these paying advantages, no definite action was taken on the project until June, when the Publicity Director circulated a petition among the members of the Executive Council. Affiliation was approved by a landslide vote, and the fee is in the mail now. Thus all Washington tournaments conducted by WCF will be 100% USCF rated. The 10¢ per game rating fee will not be added to tourney entry fees.

OUT STATE TOURNEYS

The U.S. Junior Championship will be held at Lincoln, Nebraska July 15 to 24. As a safeguard against "unusual" weather, all games will be played in the air-conditioned Green Room of the local YMCA. Some of the earliest registrants will get rent free rooms in the homes of Lincoln Chess Club members. Lincoln is 1750 miles from Seattle and offers a variety of recreation. Registration should be addressed to A. Liepnieks, 135 N. 14th Street, Lincoln, Nebraska.

The U.S. Open Championship, August 8 to 20, offers a new 1955 Mercury as first prize, followed by cash prizes ranging from $1000. for second, $750 for third, to $50 for 20th place. For hotels and meals at reasonable prices, contact J.P. Looney, Lincoln Park Chess Club, Long Beach, 2, Calif. Long Beach is 1180 miles from Seattle. Sleeper busses cost about $30 round trip. Seattle players Bills and Breiger plan to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Edberg. Possibly other cars will make the trip from this area. Play will begin at 7 p.m. each day with a few exceptions. Entry fee of $15 must be paid by 1 p.m. August 8 at Municipal Recreation Center, 350 E. Ocean Blvd.

The Women's World Challengers' Tournament to be held in Moscow in October will have the US represented by Mrs. Gisela Gresser, Mrs. Sonja Stevenson and Miss Mona Karff. They will have to meet winners of Russian tourneys in which 12,000 women participated.

Clinton Parnelee, fireman of Newark, N.J. won the United States Amateur Chess Championship, in a 75 player contest held at the Mohegan Country Club, in New York. Russell Chauvenet, Maryland, was second and was followed by Victor Guala and Roy Black. Trophies were awarded the winners of each rating group. The tournament was well attended by families of the contestants, who took advantage of sports bathing and boats as poppa bent over the chess board. The country club and all its facilities were available by courtesy of Morris Kramer and his associates Mr. and Mrs. David Harris, and in response to many requests by the players and families another tournament will probable be held at the Mohegan Country Club in September.

Max Pavey was official adjudicator, and Kenneth Harkness got no sleep for three days as tournament director.

The success of the tournament indicates a trend that may replace cash with titles and trophies.

BILL BILLS BLITZ KING OF CLUB AGAIN

Chess clubs, like chess players, are unpredictable. For weeks it was dead at 616 Madison. On June 15th five players join the club. On Friday night, June 17th, a good crowd shows up at the club to play chess and not just to meet and go elsewhere under the impression they are seeking entertainment when actually they are leaving it!

The June 17th crowd included several of the city's stronger players and they craved action. A speed tournament was the answer starting at 8:15 and finishing at 11:30 p.m. It was a nine round ten player round-robin with a player who had finished his game taking on the next free player, provided they had not played already. With these rules, a lively, fast-paced interesting tourney followed.

WILLIAM BILLS, our State Champion, won the tournament with 7-2. Bills lost games to GEORGE BISHOP and JIM AMIDON.

Bills seemed to be making a runaway of the event in the first few rounds but began to slip while slow starters began to gain ground. Bills needed every point as it was very close at the finish as HUGH NOLAND, GEORGE BISHOP, ALAN CLARK and GERALD SCHAIN all tied for second place with 6-3 scores, only one game behind Bills.

Our State Speed Champion, RUSSELL VELLIAS, dropped out after compiling a 2-3 score. DAN WADE, tournament director, took his place and won 3 out of 4 to make the final Vellias-Wade total 5-4, or only one game out of second place.

It was a case of feast or famine in this tournament with the other players enduring very modest scores. JIM AMIDON scored  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ , FRANK RODNITE 3-6, WILLIAM GILLETTE  $1\frac{1}{2}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$  and DAVID ERICKSON 1-8.

MAURICE HENION acted as referee and timer helping out the timer machine. The forfeit squawk was raucous enough but the move bell seemed slightly worn out. Mr. Henion's services were most important.

RUSSELL VELLIAS SEATTLE CLUB CHAMP

Vellias, winner of Division One of the Seattle Chess Club Tourney defeated Wade, winner of Division Two. Vellias is the champion with  $6\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$  with the belts of Pupols, Mulford, Ring, Dr. Shephard, Erickson and Wade on his belt. Club proxy Ted Davidson held the champ to a draw.

Wade defeated Bills, Edberg, McCulloch, Rennord and Dr. Lewis before losing to DeWitt and then again losing the grand finale.

EDBERG YAKIMA CHAMP

Bob Edberg, a Seattle import to Tieton, a suburb of Yakima, won the 1955 Yakima Round Robin Tournament. He won 24 of his 27 games, drawing two and losing only one. He was a favorite all through the tournament, and proved himself well. He took an early lead, but relinquished it to Eli Treisman about half way through. When the climactic Treisman-Edberg match was played and Edberg won both games, there was little doubt as to the outcome. Edberg's sole loss was to William Hoge--an 81 move struggle lasting six hours and played in two sessions. On the tournament eve of May 9, Edberg had a narrow escape. Rolf Lavik had managed to survive a game with a bishop and knight advantage over a lone king. Unfortunately for Lavik, he couldn't remember how to mate and a draw was finally agreed upon.

Eli Treisman was defending champion in the seventeen player double round robin. Other champions in the tourney have been William H. Hoge and Oliver LaFreniere, Treisman was runner-up with 26 wins out of 30 games, and Hoge finished third with 24 wins out of 30 games. Complete final standings opposite.

The youngest player of the tournament was Terry Nelson, 15, who took fifth place. More was expected from him, actually, since he is among the group of famous Yakima juniors. Yakima is preparing three more juniors now, ages 10, 11, and 11. One of the eleven-year-olds shows definite promise. Seattle had better be on the watch!

SPOKANE NEWS

The Spokane Chess Club voted to continue meetings through the summer as long as the attendance holds up. Formerly the club closed for the hot season. The meetings are now held at the Desert Hotel on Thursday evenings.

The future of an Inland Empire Chess League has brightened considerably the last week with word from the Penitentiary and Pullman that teams may be in action next fall. With Pasco and Spokane already in the fold it looks as if a good four team league may be in competition. Yakima is out for unknown reasons.

Just when we had planned on adding a strong player from Washington D. C. to our roster we were informed he is being transferred to Seattle July 1. He is Anders Tejer and was a member of the Divan Chess Club. Treat him well, Seattle.

Dan Daniels and Dr. G. H. Parker have just completed a six game match with a 3-3 score resulting. Daniels has now challenged Gordon Cornelius and is one game down at this date.

A summer round robin tournament is being planned. Not since 1951 has the club had this kind of tournament. In that year the club was divided into an A and B group for the club championship and each played the round robin style.

At present the Spokane club is the only one in the state which is a member of the USCF. Its membership enabled it to rate the city and Inland Empire tournaments.

LATEST USCF

The USCF Rating List may be of some help in placing players on our team at International. (?) At least if doubts exist concerning the ability of any two players the Tourney Director can duck the issue and use USCF ratings! About 20 other Washington players were rated (mostly provisional) with ratings of 1550 and below.

The USCF ratings seem to be extremely important to the majority of the extreme chess enthusiasts. The appearance of these ratings act as a sort of shot in the arm to the game. Anything which will wake up the players and put life, or a reasonable facsimile, into competitive chess when it is lagging must not be too bad. The Ratings appeal to the vanity of the players and not to the old brain. Washington should be able to rate her own players quite accurately and without charge getting all of the tournaments and not just those which were the ones the tourney director took the trouble to get rated.

If Washington players want on the USCF rating list, then let the officials in charge make certain ALL of our tournaments are rated. If only part of our tournaments are rated then the ratings are not accurate. If they are not accurate then they are without value. This is, of course, not the fault of USCF but the fault of our own advocates of WCF-USCF Union Now.

The writer is still mumbling in his beard over the absence of Zengalis and Noland from the USCF rating list. It seems that the powers in charge neglected to have the 14 player $100 prize Puget Sound Open Tournament rated! At the same time we have a Junior and a Woodpusher tourney rated! Does this make sense?

The majority of the players in the strong Puget Sound Open were already in USCF. The rating of this tournament may have helped Zengalis's rating or would have at least kept him on the list. It would have given Noland a very high provisional rating. It would have perked up the very sad ratings of LaFreniere & DeWitt. It would have lowered the boom on Ulvestad and Bills. It may have upped Pupol's rating. It would have given a better fix on Dr. Parker.

One member of the Seattle Chess Club felt the club should renew its affiliation with USCF. He donated $5. $10 is needed. Donations please. LaFreniere wants WCF affiliated. The cost for either is $10.

Since the previous USCF ratings published in the June 5, 1954 Chess Life, there have been several gains and losses by Washington and ex-Washington State players. Gains: Joachim (2), Rosburg (60), Edberg (15), Wade (14), Greenwood (10), Vellias (241), LaFreniere (3), DeWitt (1), Weaver (70), and Nelson (272). Nelson and Vellias registered the only amazing changes because they were very under rated last time.

Losses: Pupols (65), Warner (7), G.S.G. Patterson (51), Manney (58), Ted Davidsen (15) and McCormick (64). Incidentally, McCormick informs us he has retired from chess at the ripe old age of 18. He blames chess for what it has done to him! From now on he will spend his spare time working overtime so he can make more money so he will have more money to spend on GIRLS! Alas, chess loses again.

I understand the next USCF ratings will be out in six months. More than.

CHESS RATINGS

THE LONG AWAITED USCF RATING LIST APPEARED IN THE MAY 5TH AND MAY 20TH CHESS LIFE. FROM THE WASHINGTON VIEWPOINT, A FEATURE OF THE RATINGS WAS THE INCLUSION OF A VAST NUMBER OF SPOKANE PLAYERS WITH PROVISIONAL RATINGS (*) WHICH MEANS THEIR RATINGS ARE REPRESENTATIVE OF PERFORMANCE IN ONLY ONE TOURNAMENT. FUTURE PERFORMANCE WILL FIX THESE PROVISIONAL RATINGS MORE ACCURATELY.

CHESS IN 'REVIEW'

By Weaver

Chess Review scoops the philosophical world with first publication of an appraisal of Emanuel Lasker (World Chess Champion, 1894 to 1921) written by Albert Einstein as a forward to a Lasker biography. Einstein described his friendship with Lasker, and how Lasker's keen analytical mind had immediately recognized the central point whereby the theory of relativity would fail of demonstration by experimental methods. Einstein regarded Lasker as having failed to live up to his talents as a mathematician and philosopher, because he was fettered to chess in spite of a great longing to be free of its unending and insatiable demands. Einstein stated that there was a tragic note in Lasker's personality because the enormous psychological tension, without which nobody can be a chess master, was so deeply interwoven with chess that he could never entirely rid himself of the spirit of the game. Footnotes by the Chess Review editor, by the biographer Dr. John Hannak, and by the translator, B.F. Winkelman, defend chess as having more than mere game-like merits, although reference is made to the frustration of Lasker's final words as he died, bitterly saying "---King of chess!"

Formation of the American Chess Foundation, Inc. to provide sound financing for chess, was announced in the New York Times. Alexander Bisno of Beverly Hills, Calif., is its first President. Lack of financing and under-promotion dropped to a newer low last year when an American team was unable to compete in the world tournament at Amsterdam for lack of financial support. Two funds have been established and several thousand dollars already contributed. Officers and directors include Ross Reeves, Morris Kasper, Walter Fried, Lessing Rosenwald, J. Coe, and Mrs. Cecile Wertheim.

John H. Staffer, born in 1872, has won the 1951 postal championship with a clean score. He had previously won tournaments in 1895, 1898, 1904, 1911, 1912, and 1943. He competed creditably with Capablanca, Marshall and Janowski back in 1913.

The 1955 USSR championship was won by Geller in a play-off with V. Smyslov, after World Champion Botvinnik had been relegated to a tie for third place with Petrosyan and two youngsters in the regular tournament. Botvinnik lost to Geller and Smyslov, and in the last round needed a draw to share first place, but lost to Paul Keres in 27 moves.

Yugoslavia has a new star of the first magnitude, N. Karaklaich having won the national championship ahead of Gligorich, Rabar, Ivkov, Milich and Matanovich.

In its drive for chess jokes Chess Review has come up with the following:

The president of the chess club then called for the hours of the last meeting.

Hans Kmoch, checking the score turned in by a loser, noticed O-O for two different moves, waved his finger and admonished: "You should never have lost the game. If you had castled once more you could've claimed a draw by repetition."

The "Prince of Orange" march written in the eighteenth century by Philidor, the chess great, was recently included in an evening of music by radio station WQXR.

By Weaver

"You're a CHESS PLAYER? Is it a good game for two?"

This system of attack is becoming increasingly popular. It can be used against the French or the Sicilian, and it may lead to a King's Indian Reversed. It is a favored weapon of Smyslov.

A draw is the natural result when two players of equal strength meet. The strength of a tournament can be tested by the number of draws produced. But tournament play, although not the bing-bang-boom contest the amateur indulges, is fun to watch and play. The battle proceeds a little slower, tactical interludes are not quite so frequent, and occasionally a strategic masterpiece, its idea clearly visible--even to the uninitiated is produced. Here is an example of such work.

WHITE: P. PETROV BLACK: A. TSVEPKOS, Sofia 1947

1. P-Q4, N-KB3; 2. P-QB4, P-KN3; 3. N-QB3, B-N2; 4. P-K4, P-Q3

Restraint can only go so far and no further; if Black permits P-K5 his pieces will end right back where they started from.

5. P-KN3, O-O; 6. B-N2, QN-N2; 7. KN-N2, P-K4; 8. O-O, R-K1

9. P-B3, Pxp; 10. NxP, P-B3!

With this move Black announces his intention of playing P-Q4 just as soon as he can after due preparation. If P-Q4 can be prevented, Black will have a helpless backward Pawn on Q3--But it cannot--from this point moves by both parties are designed to support that critical square Blacks Q4.

11. N-B2, N-N3; 12. N-K3, B-K3; 13. Q-Q3, P-Q4; 14. BxpP, Pxp

15. Pxp, KNxp; 16. NxN, NxN; 17. NxN, QxN; 18. QxQ, BxQ

There is a somewhat vague principle that the man who starts exchanging first gets the poorer game. It is certainly true in this example. Note that Blacks manifold small advantages can be quickly developed to win.

19. R-Q1, B-B3; 20. R-N1, R-K3; 21. P-B4, QR-K1; 22. BxB, RxB

23. K-B1, R-B7; 24. R-Q2, KR-QB1; 25. RxR, RxR; 26. P-KR3, B-Q5

27. P-QR4, P-QR4; 28. P-N3, R-B7ch; 29. K-K1, R-KR7; 30. K-B1, B-B4; 31. R-R1

Once again the losing side has been reduced to helplessness. Black has the choice of when to start devouring Pawns.

31. ...P-B4; 32. R-N1, K-B2; 33. K-K1, Rxp; 34. K-K2, R-R8; 35. K-Q2, B-R6

A Pawn endgame with a Pawn ahead and a more centralized king should prove quite elementary. Not caring to suffer any longer White resigned. This particular game revolved about the strategic point Q5. Black gained the advantage when his forces won the battle of that point.

Fred M. Howard won the West Seattle Club Championship for '55 with 11 wins and 3 losses. Not all players completed the schedule.

	1.	2.	3.	4.	5.	6.	7.	8.	9.	WON	LOST
1. HOWARD, F.M.	xxxx	11	10		01	11	11	10	11	11	3

8. SCHRANK	01	00		01	00	00	01	xxxx		3	9
9. KELLY	00	00	0	00		00			xxxx	0	9

KUVARA is another junior who appears to be going places. He is only 16 now but come the later years and he may threaten the Junior crown.

Elsewhere in this issue you will note the memorial to our postal player H. E. Yocom of Centralia, Washington. Ernest was one of our earliest postal players, having started in 1949 in the eighth section of postal chess that the WCF conducted. He had completed all but one of his games at the time of his passing on. We shall miss him not only for his support of the WCF but because he was a fine gentleman. All who knew him were better because of his fine influence.

Coubrough advises that he will be vacationing until July 9th.

Due to circumstances beyond the control of your director there has been a delay in starting the CHAMPIONSHIP POSTAL CHESS TOURNAMENT that was to have been announced in this issue. The list of players will be in the next issue and the players will be notified shortly of their opponents. We will accept entries until July 10th.

Coubrough jumped from 8th to 3rd place in the A Division which may have a little to do with his going on vacation. His biggest gain was in taking a game from Weaver who was in 3rd place and now drops to 8th place. Mage also improved his standing by 76 points. Sid Nourse also added 106 points to his rating.

Merk improved his standing from 4th place to first in the B Section by his wins over Tresidder and Roberts. The game with Roberts was a stubborn contest, having taken two years to decide partly due to the mails to Alaska taking additional time. However, Merk's tenure in first place is very precarious as Dickson in second place has a possessive eye on that position.

POSTAL CHESS

Postal chess tournaments are being formed all of the time. Our tournaments are composed of sections of 5 players. Each player plays two games with each of the other four opponents, one game as white and the other game as black. Our fee is only 50¢ per section.

Postal chess is a fine way to improve your game as you can take enough time to thoroughly study out the possibilities of every move and a record is kept so that you can review the game and discover your mistakes. This is not always possible with across the board play.
