BELL 1963 OREGON CHAMPION

JOHN BELL of Portland won the 1963 Oregon State Chess Championship with a score of  $5\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  ( 4 wins, no losses and 3 draws ) in games played the two weekends of July 13-14 and July 20-21. Bell drew his games with CLAY KELLEHER, GREGORY KERN, and GARRY SINGER. Bell defeated GERALD SCHWARZ, TIM NETTLETON, DONALD TURNER and DEANE MOORE.

Clay Kelleher, also of Portland, was second. He also scored  $5\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  but finished up with fewer Sonnenborn-Berger points. He drew with Bell but lost his game against young Schwarz.

The tie-breaking situation was not satisfactory to the players. Next year it may be dispensed with.

Although neither JIM MCCORMICK or IVARS DALBERGS could play, it was still a very strong tournament. DONALD TURNER of The Dalles, who recently won the Idaho Open, had to be content with a 3-4 score and a tie for 5th and 6th places.

Trophies were awarded to the top two players.

SEATTLE CHESS CLUB MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

The Seattle Chess Club moved to larger and much better quarters on July 28th. The club is now located in room 317-G which is just off the balcony of the food circus in the Seattle Center. Although near the good aspects of the food circus it is away from all distracting noise of the circus.

This is a nice, well lighted room 18 ft. by 30 ft. with plenty of room. The rent is higher but the club expects to make a go of it with increased membership. To join, it costs a member $15 a year. The club can be opened by a member 7 days a week.

A vote of thanks to JOHN REH, GEORGE KENNY, FRANK BOSCHAN and SVEND MONRAD who did the moving.

John Reh, club president, is leaving Seattle the middle of August to take a better job in Phoenix, Arizona. He has been the spark plug of the club and it was through his efforts that the new quarters were obtained. He will be sorely missed as he did a fine job as president. GEORGE KENNY will be the new president.

The club has purchased some new chess sets which were sorely needed.

On Friday evening, September 6th, the club will hold open house. All chess players are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

Friday evening, Aug. 2nd, the night before the Seafair Open tournament, found 14 players engaged in a very strong Seattle Chess Club speed event. VIKTORS PUPOLS & DUNCAN SUTTLES tied for first place, both scoring 12-1. Strangely enough the Seafair Open found the same two tied in game scores only two days later.

Pupols lost no games, but thinking he was too far ahead of anyone else, allowed 2 draws, one to EARL WILSON and one to RON ERICKSON. These draws allowed Suttles to catch Vik at the wire as he won all 12 games other than his loss to Pupols.

TERRY NELSON finished third with 10-3. He lost to Pupols, Suttles and FRANK BOSCHAN. Visiting fireman JIM MCCORMICK of Eugene, Oregon did badly for him finishing in fourth with 9-4. He lost to the top three and also lost to SVEND MONRAD. Boschan and Monrad finished in a tie for fifth and sixth both scoring 8-5.

Other scores: JIM MULDER 7-6, RONALD SMITH 6-7, EARL WILSON 6-7, DAVE RUPEL  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $9\frac{1}{2}$ , RON ERICKSON 4-9, HAROLD COLLINS 3-10, GARY CLAYHOLD  $1\frac{1}{2}$ - $11\frac{1}{2}$ , and DICK DORWIN 1-12.

JOHN REH directed. All above news reported by FRED HOWARD, Seattle Chess Club secretary-treasurer.

Editor's note: We visited the new quarters of the Seattle Chess Club and liked it so well we parted with $15 to join. When we part with $15 it must be good! There may be lower yearly rates for juniors and out-of-town players. Visit the club & find out.

DALBERGS EVERGREEN EMPIRE WINNER

Forty players turned up at Fircrest to play in the first Evergreen Empire Open and at its conclusion three players were unbeaten all with 5-1 scores. Median tie-breaking gave IVARS DALBERGS of Portland the Evergreen Empire Open championship. JIM MCCORMICK of Eugene took second while ELOD MACSKASY of Vancouver, B. C. took third. This trio took the top three cash prizes divided equally three ways.

A host of extremely strong players finished just outside of the prize money. Vik Pupols, Duncan Suttles and Gregory Kern had  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$  while John Bell, Gerald Ronning and Gerhard Neufahrt led the 4-2 group.

Pupols, after a long semi-retirement from tournament chess, threatened to win the tournament after winning his first four to take the lead. In the fifth round he played McCormick and McCormick had "Uncle Vik" in a bad way. Then all of the sudden to the extreme consternation of joltin' Jim and the snickering amusement of onlookers, a position developed where Pupols' passed pawn could not be stopped because of an unusual set up of Pupols' knight and passed pawn. McCormick's king was close by but could not get the pawn. After some tearing of hair Jim finally had to settle for a draw by perpetual check with his rook.

In Pupols' final round game Vik knew he must win or McCormick would finish ahead of him on tie-breaking. Just to share top money was not good enough for Vik. It was either the title for him or for his opponent and fellow Latvian Dalbergs. Actually we now know from last month's games section that Pupols should have won this game but he missed the brilliant sacrifice and Dalbergs won the game and the tournament.

Dalbergs won four and drew with the two Canadians, Suttles & MacSkasy. McCormick won four and drew with John Bell and Pupols. MacSkasy won four and drew with Kern and Dalbergs.

Kern wrote in that the outcome of this tournament was affected by several fluky games. Bell drew a won king & pawn ending against McCormick, Suttles blundered away a game against McCormick after having a killing attack and Kern had a winning game against MacSkasy, being the exchange ahead, and threw it away.

This tournament was played June 29-30. GEORGE PRIEBE directed.

HARMON WINS NORTHWEST JUNIOR

CLARK HARMON of Renton won the Northwest Junior played July 6th and 7th at the Science Center on the Seattle Center grounds. Clark topped a field of 15 with a score of  $5\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . GEORGE PRIEBE directed the event.

Harmon defeated EVELYN LINK, DAVID HAUGEN, BOB DAVIS, DUNCAN SUTTLES and JIM CAMPBELL. In the last round he protected his lead by drawing with PETER O'GORMAN.

Suttles finished second with 5-1. His loss to Harmon was published in the July Chess Letter. O'Gorman was third with 4-2. JIM MULDER also had 4-2 but fewer Median points so settled for fourth place.

The Monday, July 8th Seattle Times had a good picture of O'Gorman vs. Haugen playing while somebody's girl friend watched.

JIM MONTGOMERY, WCF Ratings Director, and Circulation Director R. R. MERK collaborated in sending out notices trying for a larger number of entries but did not appear to attract many extra players.

PUPOLS WINS SEAFAIR OPEN-SUTTLES 2ND

VICTORS PUPOLS won the Seattle Seafair Open, his third, in games played August 3rd and 4th on the balcony of the Seattle Center Food Circus. Pupols topped a field of 40 players winning five and yielding only a fourth round draw to Washington State Champion GERALD RONNING. DUNCAN SUTTLES of Vancouver, B. C., who will be a student at the University of Nevada this September, finished second also with a  $5\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  score but one less Median Point. Suttles won last year's Seafair on the tie-break over KEN GROVER who did not play in this year's tournament. Suttles won five and drew his fourth round encounter with JOHN BELL, Oregon State Champion.

After the first day of play only Pupols, Suttles, Ronning and Bell had perfect 3-0 scores. Close behind were JIM MCCORMICK and FRED WUNTSCHKEK with  $2\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . They had drawn their second round game. One of the pre-tourney favorites, first ranked ELOD MACSKASY, was down with the 2-1 group because of his third round loss to Ronning.

Sunday morning Pupols and Ronning drew, Suttles drew with Bell and Wuntschek won over JOHN NOURSE. So Pupols, Suttles, Ronning, Bell and Wuntschek were in a five-way tie for first place all with  $3\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ . However, poor McCormick lost to A. KALTENECKER of British Columbia who had been unhappy because he had to play in the "A" section when he had wanted to play in the "B" tourney which attracted 56 players with ratings below 1800.

The fifth round competition thinned down the unbeaten to three as Pupols stole a game from Bell, Suttles defeated Kaltenecker and Ronning knocked off Wuntschek. At this point Pupols, Suttles and Ronning led the pack with  $4\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  while MacSkasy and GREGORY KERN were close behind with 4-1, Kern having suffered his lone loss to Suttles in the second round. Bell had been sailing along in great shape against Pupols and then had suddenly cracked and walked into a mate in one set up.

The final round pairings found Suttles playing Ronning and Pupols meeting Kern. The latter pairing brought a hue and cry from McCormick who thought Pupols should play MacSkasy instead of Kern. MacSkasy also would have liked to play Pupols since such a pairing would double his chances of tying for first place. As it turned out he had no chance as Suttles defeated Ronning. Thus Ronning once again failed to win another tournament to go along with his triumphs in the Washington Open and Washington Championship tournaments.

It was long after the other games were finished before Pupols was able to dispose of Kern and win the Seafair championship. It was 12:30 a. m. before Kern gave up.

Dan Wade, the writer, who was nowhere near the top through most of the tournament, upset the shell of Bell in the last round to score  $4\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$  and place fifth with the same score as the fourth place Ronning. MacSkasy won all of his Sunday games to make a 5-1 score and take undisputed possession of third place.

Pupols and Suttles, having the same score, shared the $100 first and $50 second prizes, each receiving $75. MacSkasy won the $25 third prize.

In the 56 player "B" tournament, TIM NETTLETON won the $40 first prize plus one year's membership in the USCF. The next four players in the "B" event shared the $20 second and the $10 third prize money and the second through fourth place players also received a year's membership in the USCF.

The food circus location had both its' good and bad aspects. It is centrally located which is good. It is easy to get something to eat without travel which is good. It was rent free which is good. On the other hand for the first time we had some theft as two chess clocks were stolen and one player lost part of a set. Too many children & child-minded grown ups passing by made the odds too great against property remaining undisturbed. Also too much noise by clowns and other circus-sponsored entertainers.

A great thing about this tournament was the large number of Canadians who came to pick up the easy money. Six of the seven Canadians entered in the "A" tournament finished in the top fifteen and collected two of the three prizes.

These split events assure each player of strong competition in nearly every round. Many who used to be discontented if they scored only 4-2 in the old single division events, now have to scramble to score  $2\frac{1}{2}$  or 3 points.

The Washington Chess Federation received 30 new entries from this tournament. Now the editor-publisher has to make 350 copies of this magazine.

Thanks go to DR. A. A. MURRAY, CHARLES JOACHIM and FRED HOWARD for their assistance to AL LIVINGSTON, tourney director, in getting the tournament started Saturday a. m.

1963 Seattle Seafair Open Tournament played August 3rd and 4th.

ZEMGALIS WINS 19 TO 0 EXHIBIT

Seattle chess master ELMARS ZEMGALIS scored 19 to 0 in a chess simultaneous held Saturday Evening August 10th on the balcony of the Seattle Center Food Circus. $1 a board was charged and 17 tried in vain to score against Zengalis. Two were finished off so fast they were given a second chance accounting for the 19 wins. Another player played one move and then chickened out and got his dollar back. Opponents: RICHARD RAYMOND, DAN CRUZE, HOWARD WEAVER, CHARLES JOACHIM, LES WALKER, DR. ALAN PETIT, JERRY GUESS, CHARLES GREENUP, CLARENCE and LISA OLIPHANT, LARRY REYNOLDS, DR. A.A. MURRAY, DAVE RUPEL, BOB PERRON, DALE ROMBERG, GERALD V. STILES, KIM FORSBERG. Raymond and Perron lost twice. Time: 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

TIM NETTLETON WINS 1963 SEAFAIR RESERVE

TIM NETTLETON of Portland scored  $5\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$  to win the mammoth 56 player reserve section of the Seafair Open. Tim won five in a row and was quite willing to draw his 6th round game with runner-up JOHN REH in only eight moves.

Reh and FRANK BOSCHAN, also of Seattle, finished in an unbroken tie for second and third places both with 5-1 scores. Neither lost a game, Reh winning four and drawing a pair, one against JAN ROSKAM and one against Tim Nettleton, while Boschan also won four and drew games with HENRY KAFFENBERGER and Roskam.

JOHN MCCHARLES of Burnaby, B. C. also scored 5-1 and took fourth on Median points. He lost his third round encounter with Seattle's JIM MULDER. LAURENCE DALY of Seattle lost his opening game to Everett's KEN DART and then came back to win five in a row and join Boschan, Reh and McCharles in a quarter share of the totaled second and third money. The top four players also received United States Chess Federation memberships.

The 56 players, plus the 40 playing in the championship section, made this the 2nd largest tournament in northwest chess history. Last year's Seattle World's Fair tournament was the largest attracting a grand total of 104 in the two sections.

AL LIVINGSTON of Olympia also directed this tourney and if you don't think making pairings six times for 96 players in two different tournaments is not hard work try it some time! Now that our events are so huge it seems fitting that a tournament director receive some compensation for so much extra work.

PETROSIAN AND KERES WIN PIATIGORSKY CUP

Last month we gave you the story of the first 6 rounds of the Piatigorsky Cup Tournament. Here we give you the remaining 8 rounds.

Round 7 - July 14.

Benko 1 Najdorf 0. Benko won a 26 move game against Najdorf's Benoni Defense. Benko opened the king rook file, doubled his rooks and brought his queen into action. Najdorf could not regroup in time. This was Najdorf's first loss in the tourney and knocked him out of his co-leadership with Gligoric into a second place tie with Keres.

Petrosian  $\frac{1}{2}$  Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 38 move king's Indian Defense. Some complex tactics in the mid-game kept interest high.

Keres  $\frac{1}{2}$  Gligoric  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 29 move Ruy Lopez. Keres did not get the normal advantage the White side should get in this opening and after a series of exchanges, Gligoric's rooks were first in action. Keres managed to exchange both sets of rooks reducing the position to a draw. Gligoric became the tournament's only unbeaten player and led the field with a  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$  score.

Panno  $\frac{1}{2}$  Olafsson  $\frac{1}{2}$ . There was a lot of action packed into this 21 move Queen's Gambit. Olafsson sacked a pawn for quick development and got a promising attack but ran too short of time. Panno was only a little better off on the clock so a quick agreement to a draw was a relief to both players.

Half-way scores: Gligoric  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$ , Najdorf 4-3, Keres 4-3, Petrosian  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ , Reshevsky  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ , Olafsson  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ , Panno  $2\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ , Benko  $2\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ . White won 11 games to 2 for the Black side. Keres won both with the black pieces. 15 games ended in draws.

Round 8 - July 15.

Petrosian  $\frac{1}{2}$  Keres  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 23 move English Opening where Keres got an easy game in the opening and made some aggressive gestures. However, Petrosian had no weaknesses and by blocking the center ended any immediate attacking chances.

Benko  $\frac{1}{2}$  Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A well-fought 41 move King's Indian Defense. At the end Benko could force perpetual check and if Benko tried to win, Reshevsky could have started his own series of checks.

Panno  $\frac{1}{2}$  Najdorf  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 38 move Tarrasch Defense. After 37 moves Panno claimed a draw on the basis that 38. N-Q7 would repeat the position for the third time. The claim had to be made to the tournament director before the move was made. Najdorf protested but the game score verified the claim. Panno was in extreme time trouble with only seconds for his last few moves. Najdorf felt he had better prospects in the final position but nothing at all decisive was in sight.

Gligoric 0 Olafsson 1. Gligoric lost the exchange and after two adjournments, Gligoric finally lost his first game of the tournament, a 100 move King's Indian Defense. After 75 moves and the second adjournment, Gligoric was behind a knight and two pawns against Olafsson's rook and two pawns. Olafsson finally got a passed pawn which he escorted with his rook and king and Gligoric resigned after 100 moves.

After eight rounds half of the players were tied for first place. Keres, Gligoric, Najdorf and Olafsson were the leaders each having a  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$  score. Next came Petrosian & Reshevsky both with 4-4 while Panno and Benko brought up the rear both having 3-5. Actually at the time matters were not this clear as adjournments confused the actual standings for some time.

Round 9 - July 17.

Najdorf 0 Olafsson 1. A 41 move Nimzo-Indian Defense. Najdorf allowed his king-side pawns to be broken up and after he lost his early game initiative and all pieces were exchanged, Olafsson had a simple king and pawn winning end game.

Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$  Panno  $\frac{1}{2}$ . An 18 move Tarrasch Defense that was quite even although Reshevsky used over two hours of his allotted time evidently looking for favorable prospects.

Petrosian 1 Gligoric 0. The world champion Petrosian was facing the only man who had defeated him in the tournament and he showed early that he was out for revenge. Petrosian's determined king-side attack was temporarily stopped when Gligoric sacked his knight for two pawns. Petrosian then played to consolidate and simplify. Upon resumption of play after adjournment, Petrosian won on the 48th move of this King's Indian.

Keres 1 Benko 0. Keres put the pressure on Benko's French Defense and Benko finally decided to give up the exchange to get counter-play to no avail. Keres won without resumption of play after adjournment. (See note below *)

Scores: Keres and Olafsson  $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ , Petrosian 5-4, Gligoric, Reshevsky and Najdorf all  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ , and Panno  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$  and Benko 3-6. The situation was not nearly this clear at the time because of the adjourned games.

Round 10 - July 18.

Olafsson 1 Reshevsky 0. A 38 move King's Indian Defense. Reshevsky had to devote himself to defense which was not good enough. Olafsson won a pawn on his 31st move and the game was gone for Reshevsky.

Benko 0 Petrosian 1. Petrosian had won a pawn. After the adjournment Petrosian sacked a knight for three more pawns and established a powerful phalanx of pawns on the queen-side. Clever tactics forced the win of a piece a few moves later and Benko resigned after the 55th move of this Queen's Gambit Declined.

Panno 0 Keres 1. Keres had the advantage after 42 moves of this Queen's Indian. After adjournment, Keres became ill (* note above) and he came to the playing room to state he would be unable to play off the two adjourned games he had pending that day. Pal Benko and Oscar Panno then both resigned to Keres without resuming play and Keres promptly went back to bed! This may be the first time in history a player asked for a postponement and was rewarded with two points.

Gligoric  $\frac{1}{2}$  Najdorf  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 41 move adjourned Nimzo-Indian Defense. A game of maneuvers. When Gligoric appeared to be gaining ground, a series of exchanges equalized the position. A draw was agreed on before time to resume play.

Scores: Olafsson and Keres  $6\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ , Petrosian 6-4, Gligoric and Najdorf 5-5, Reshevsky  $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ , Panno  $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $6\frac{1}{2}$  and Benko 3-7.

Round 11 - July 21.

Both Keres and Reshevsky were out with the flu. The tournament director then used the pairings for round 13 for round 11 as in that round Keres and Reshevsky were matched with each other. This cut down the number of postponed games from 2 to 1. It was at this stage that both Benko and Panno resigned adjourned games to Keres.

Petrosian  $\frac{1}{2}$  Najdorf  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 33 move Queen's Indian Defense. Najdorf defended carefully and was never in real danger. A couple of pawn exchanges simplified the game before the draw was agreed on.

Panno  $\frac{1}{2}$  Gligoric  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 37 move King's Indian Defense. Gligoric just managed to equalize as Panno had all the better of it through the early middle game.

Benko 1 Olafsson 0. Benko had the better in the Queen's Indian Defense opening and after 30 moves both players were in serious time trouble. Olafsson then misjudged the position and at adjournment after Benko's 42nd move Benko had a favorable king and pawn ending. Olafsson resigned without resuming play as Benko was able to win a key pawn.

(postponed) Keres 0 Reshevsky 1. Reshevsky was in fine form and outplayed Keres by beautiful positional chess. Reshevsky won a pawn just before they adjourned on the 41st move and had a considerable positional advantage. After resumption of play, Reshevsky went on to win in 73 moves. A Ruy Lopez. Olafsson, Keres and Petrosian led with  $6\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ . Gligoric, Najdorf and Reshevsky had  $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ . Panno and Benko both had 4-7.

Round 12 - July 22.

Olafsson  $\frac{1}{2}$  Petrosian  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 25 move Nimzo-Indian. The final position was quite complex. Olafsson had very little time left and was glad to take the draw. Black could do no better than equalize in the final position.

Najdorf 1 Keres 0. Keres lost his second game in a row in a 35 move Dutch Defense. Najdorf forced open the center lines and moved his pieces into position. Keres could find no adequate defensive measures.

Gligoric  $\frac{1}{2}$  Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 34 move Ruy. This was a placid game with pieces exchanged whenever either player occupied what might prove a strong line.

Panno 1 Benko 0. A 59 move King's Indian. For the last ten moves of the first session both players were in serious time trouble and the session ended with both of their flags on the verge of falling. Panno had all the better of the play missing several opportunities to improve. After adjournment Panno obtained two passed pawns and this led to the winning of at least a piece. He handled the final phase perfectly.

After 12 rounds Olafsson and Petrosian led with 7-5. Next were Keres and Najdorf with  $6\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ . Gligoric and Reshevsky had 6-6 so the top six players were still in the running for first prize. Panno had 5-7 while Benko trailed with 4-8.

Round 13 - July 24.

Petrosian 1 Panno 0. For the first time Petrosian had the sole ownership of first place and with only one round left to play. At adjournment, Petrosian had a slight advantage in a rook and knight ending. On resumption of play Petrosian won a pawn with a series of king moves and won the game in 62 moves. A Catalan Game.

Keres 1 Olafsson 0. Keres won in 52 moves. Olafsson lost a center pawn early in the game and later gave up a rook for a bishop which was ample margin for Keres. The win put Keres into second place. A King's Indian Defense.

Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$  Najdorf  $\frac{1}{2}$ . A 43 move Nimzo-Indian. This draw eliminated Reshevsky from the title chase. This game was evenly contested throughout. It was adjourned in an ending with knights and pawns only. The draw was agreed on without resumption.

Benko 1 Gligoric 0. This was the only 13th round game completed in the first session. Gligoric erred in the opening to lose a rook for a bishop. A few moves later Benko sacrificed his queen to force the exchange of all the pieces and in addition he picked up a pawn leading to a simple end game win. A King's Indian Defense.

After 13 rounds Petrosian led with 8-5. Keres was second with  $7\frac{1}{2}$ - $5\frac{1}{2}$ . Olafsson & Najdorf were tied for third and fourth both having 7-6 scores. Reshevsky was fifth. He had a  $6\frac{1}{2}$ - $6\frac{1}{2}$  score. Poor Gligoric, the first half leader, was sixth with a 6-7 score. Tied for seventh and eighth places were Panno and Benko, both having 5-8 scores.

The final round summary and the final standings are on the next page.

Round 14 - July 28.

Gligoric 0 Keres 1. Keres opened up the game, lined up on the long diagonal and got through after some weak play on Gligoric's part. A 35 move Nimzo-Indian.

Reshevsky  $\frac{1}{2}$  Petrosian  $\frac{1}{2}$ . Petrosian held an early advantage but got into trouble in the middle game. On Reshevsky's 22nd move Petrosian lost a rook for a bishop and in the next few moves Reshevsky improved his position to the point it looked as if he might win. However, the resourceful Petrosian forced Reshevsky to give back the exchange and both players agreed to a draw. A 36 move English opening.

Najdorf  $\frac{1}{2}$  Benko  $\frac{1}{2}$ . Benko developed a strong game in the opening. At one point he was a pawn ahead. Najdorf's pieces were active and he found good counter-play. At the end repetition of moves was forced. A 31 move King's Indian.

Olafsson  $\frac{1}{2}$  Panno  $\frac{1}{2}$ . This was the last game to be finished although it lasted only 29 moves. Both players had less than a minute to play on the 25th move. A draw had to be agreed on. The final position showed that Olafsson could have won a piece in 2 moves. This was a Ruy Lopez.

THIRD ANNUAL PEACE ARCH OPEN OCT. 5 - 6.

The Bellingham C. C. has set the week-end of Oct. 5-6 for their annual Peace Arch Open tournament. No details yet.

The Bellingham Club is holding a "40 in 1" tourney for Puget Sound League practice as the club will be in the league again this year.

Bellingham wonders what happened to the Seattle boys at the International Match? ( We want to know too! )

62A-8B Weaver 1 Parsons 0 46 top honors in the A division.

Weaver demonstrates a win vs Parsons in which he earns 66 points of which 20 were awarded last month.

Apologies to Lyberger for omitting him from our ratings in June & July.

Thanks to the many members who renewed this past month on receiving their first notice.

The following new postal players joined up, Lockhart, J. Parsons, and Stratton in the A division. Stiles and Walker in B and Bauman in C division. Dorwin returns in C after an absence of some months.
