KARPOV WINS OVER SPASSKY

Karpov won 11th game of 20 game match with Spassky. This gave him 4 wins the required number to win the match. Score was 4-1 with rest draws which don't count in these matches. Karpov now must play Korchnoi this fall with winner of 5 games to play Fischer for World title on June 1 1975. I assume site for Karpov-Korchnoi will be in USSR.

In my small library I have from three Korchnoi-Karpov games which I have printed below. Maybe someone else can find others and will send them in.

NORTHWEST CHESS

is published monthly by the WASHINGTON CHESS FEDERATION* a non-incorporated affiliate of the United States Chess Federation. By cooperative agreements with BRITISH COLUMBIA CHESS FEDERATION and the OREGON CHESS FEDERATION, these organizations recognize this magazine as their "official" publication and contribute information and material concerning chess matters in their respective areas. However, while full voting membership in both the WCF and OCF includes a subscription to NWC, full membership in BCCF makes a subscription to NWC optional. Therefore, with respect to OCF and WCF, this magazine will continue to make available space for all official matters. With respect to BCCF and Idaho, all news and contributions are, of course, welcome, but at times when overall space becomes limited, then the pages for these areas will generally reflect the current level of subscriber interest.

BOOK REVIEW

CHESS WITH THE MASTERS

By Martin Beheim

Arco Publishing Company, Inc., 219 Park Ave S.
New York, NY 10003 paperback $1.95 271 pages

This is a reprint of 1963 hardback edition. Cover says annotations are "with move-by-move comment and description". To me this means after each move as in LOGICAL CHESS MOVE BY MOVE. That is not the way this book is and notes are not very deep. There are 100 games from Andersen to Fischer divided up under the following headings: The Mating Attack, The Art of Positional Play, Victory on 'The other wing', Defense Triumphant, Hand to Hand Fighting, the Art of Endgame Play and a Peaceful Conclusion. Beheim gives an introduction to each game to set the scene and tell a little about the players. All the great names of chess can be found in this collection. There are 10 games of Alekhines, 8-Botvinnik, 9-Tal, 5-Fischer etc. Good clear diagrams at critical positions in every other game. There is an index by player and by opening. A good inexpensive collection of great games of the past.

RIDDERBUSCH TOPS ROYAL OPEN

Russ Ridderbusch and Norm Wyrck finished a 4 round swiss, Lynnwood High Royal Open, with 4-0. In a special play-off Ridderbusch was the victor. There were 29 players in the event directed by Gale Filor. 7 players scored 3-1: Bruce Jones, Duane Thorkilden, Craig Johnson, Kurt Getz, Jerry Erickson, Kelly Burke, Steven Hall. No girls took part and only 4 seniors. Lynnwood came in 2nd in Western Conference High School League. The school club used the event to establish a ladder. In progress now are 4, 6 player round robins.

NEIL SALMON CONTINUED ON HIS WINNING WAYS BY NOSING OUT ERIC TANGBORN IN THE 1974 DAFFODIL OPEN. FOR THIS ACHIEVEMENT HE RECEIVED THE RIDICULOUS SUM OF $8.50, WHICH MIGHT PAY HIS EXPENSES FOR THE DAY BUT WE DOUBT IT. ERIC TANGBORN GOT OFF TO A GOOD START AND SHARED THE FIRST PRIZE WITH NEIL. DIGNE DELENEA TOOK 3RD, BOB MCCURDY CLASS C, DAN BAILEY CLASS B AND DON STEPHENSON CLASS D & UNRATED. ROBERT NELSON FOUGHT THE GOOD FIGHT AND GOT CLASS A HONORS.

ONCE AGAIN THE YOUNGER GENERATION SHOWED THE WAY, AND THIS YEAR NEIL SALMON MADE HIS INITIAL DEBUT AS PIERCE COUNTY CHAMPION. NEIL HAS NOW WON JUST ABOUT EVERY TITLE IN TACOMA CHESS. IN THIS EVENT, HE ALLOWED A 2ND ROUND DRAW TO JOHN PERICIC AND CLEANED UP ON 5 OTHER OPPONENTS. DAN BLACHLY, STILL SHOWING A GREAT DEAL OF IMPROVEMENT, TOOK 2ND, AND THE PERENNIAL BATTLER, VERNON HOLMES, CAME IN THIRD. JOHN WARD WON THE CLASS B TROPHY, ED BOSSE CLAIMED CLASS C, THAT WILEY VETERAN, MARTIN RASMUSSEN WON THE CLASS D. IN FACT, ALL CLASS D PLAYERS ACHIEVED AN EVEN SCORE. DON STEPHENSON WON THE HOTLY CONTESTED UNRATED TROPHY. I, PERSONALLY WOULD LIKE TO THANK ALL OF YOU WHO PLAYED ALL OF YOUR GAMES IN SPITE OF DISAPPOINTMENT IN SOME CASES. YOUR COOPERATION IS APPRECIATED.

It is reprinted with written consent of APCT, and may not be reprinted in any form without the express written consent of the editor of APCTNB.

This appeared in March 1974 issue Vol III No. 3. In giving permission Helen Warren, Tournament Director for APCTNB wrote the following background material on the article, "Korchnoi is a fascination gentlemen-- thoroughly at home, an excellent command of English, and with a charm too seldom seen. Frankly, I think he possesses the same degree of substance as Gligoric does veneer. The editing job on this piece was incredible. It entailed reconstruction of notes, transcribing of tape (with no 18 minute or 18 second gaps!), deleting, working with Korchnoi's analysis delivered with board in sight at the Chicago Chess Club where Jim taped and took notes, and expanding them to the format of written analysis."

KORCHNOI IN CHICAGO by Jim Warren

An exclusive...Korchnoi comes to Chicago.. He analyzes his third win with Mecking.. His observations on the approaching semi-finals, Fischer, and an assessment of his own chances... Victor Korchnoi, the fifth ranked player in the World, came to Chicago after his match in Augusta, GA, as a guest of the Chicago Chess Club. Before his simul exhibition (46 wins 6 draws, 2 losses) he chatted informally with his audience, then gave an analysis of his final victory over Mecking. Clearly Korchnoi was "at home" in Chicago: he spoke remarkably good English, seemed relieved that Augusta was behind him, and showed his broad good humor to his audience.

First of all, I want to introduce myself. I am one of 36 Soviet Grandmaster. I was born in Leningrad in 1931, and have lived there all my life. I got the title of National Master in 1951, that of International Master in 1954 and the title of International Grandmaster in 1956, so you can see I've had the experience of being a grandmaster for 18 years. I've been Champion of the USSR four times, in 1960 '62, '65, and '70, and I've played several matches with rather strong players. I won matches against Reshevsky, Tal and Geller, and I lost two matches, to Spassky and to Petrosian-- I will tell more about that later. As to my match with Mecking, I knew the expression, that Mecking was one of the "bad boys of chess"; I knew of his fame and when I was preparing I read all the interviews he made. He was not very polite. Generally speaking he doesn't know much about courtesy. You know, I'm 20 years older than he, but during the match when, for instance, before the game he was sitting at the table, and I was coming to the board, he stretched his hand toward me, sitting on the damn chair! He could rise up just a little bit-- and I was his opponent and 20 years older! During the match, I had on a suit and tie and was properly dressed, but he had on some kind of underwear! And there was an inscription on it, "Cafe de Brazil". My second, Mr. Osnos, International Chess Master, suggested I put on my pants and write on them, for instance, "Drink Vodka Moscova!"

In his interviews he (Mecking) confirmed he is one of the strongest players, and that there are only three players in the world now: Fischer, Karpov, and Mecking himself! All other Grandmasters are patzers or kibitzers! He confirmed that he knows me, and he says that I am rather strong, but I have a lot of flaws and he knows how to beat me. It was not very polite. By the way, I may say frankly, that I made a mistake, too. Before the drawing of lots, when the pairings were not known, in some interview I said that Mecking is rather weak player, that he should lose to anybody he meets in the first round. It was my mistake! I did not know that I should play him; and then when it happened that I had to play him, later on I said that I had never made such a statement! I had to prove now that my statement was right, I had to prove it myself!

Mecking grew up in chess very, very quickly, and he learned a lot of things about chess. He knows how to play openings properly; he knows a lot about strategic fight and it's true, he learned how to play, for instance, in Petrosian's style, Fischer's style, even how to imitate my style, maybe, but he hasn't his own face in chess, he doesn't have any new ideas. Maybe I'm not too objective now, excuse me, because I had a very serious match, a very psychological fight, and even now I'm a little bit angry about him! Maybe next time, a month later, I will tell you just the opposite, but now, it's my opinion that I played badly in that match -- I'm not satisfied with the quality of my play. Well, first of all, I was probably not accustomed to the difference in time and climate between Moscow and Georgia, and also I may say, that Mecking is very nervous. He is really nervous! There's dead silence in the hall, but nevertheless, Mecking complained every day and every hour, about some noise in the corridor, some whistle or fan and so on. And his nervousness transferred to me. I felt that I played much worse than I usually play. I won three games, but it was possible only with the assistance of my opponent--I could not do it myself, you know! That match was a very difficult task for me.

Very often Mecking is compared with Fischer. Now the behavior of Fischer is rather strange, but I'm not inclined to say the same. Fischer had a very difficult childhood, and he is nervous too, of course, but I understand all his deeds, his behavior, and his thoughts, and I can talk to him; I have common subjects to talk to him; but I have nothing in common with Mecking. I don't understand his behavior. His father is a rich man and his behavior is that of a very naughty boy, but he is now 22 years old and he has to be responsible for his behavior. When we played, the situation was very nervous. Usually I tried not to be at the board during his thinking, so as not to disturb him; but it was one of the last games of the match, and time pressure was coming for both players. I was sitting opposite him and it was his turn to think and to move, and suddenly he made such a gesture (breathing hard) -- it meant that I was not to breath too loud, you know! I became like a mouse during the match; it was difficult for me to play such a match.

I want to mention now that I have to play Petrosian and Spassky will play Karpov. Spassky, although he has achieved good successes recently, he won the Championship of the USSR and beat Byrne easily-- but it's my opinion he did not recover from the blow which he got from Fischer. Spassky is not that Spassky who played, for instance in 1965 or '67; at that time he was the best player in the World. Now I don't think so. Karpov is a very steady player; he is now able to beat anybody, even Spassky or me, for instance-- but he does not have much experience. It's my opinion that he will play much better three years from now, and then it should be the match of the century between Fischer and Karpov. But not now. I think that my match with Petrosian will be more important, because I think the winner of our match will meet Fischer next year. Well, for me, it's not easy to play Petrosian. He's not a pleasant partner for me. He doesn't go forward when he plays chess; he waits for his opponent's mistake-- no more, no other tactic. Well, I don't like to play such an opponent, and it was funny about that match in 1971, when I played Petrosian. We made eight draws and then I lost the 9th game. When I lost the match, everybody in my country or outside was sure that I lost that match deliberately, because I did not want to play Fischer, because I was sure Fischer players better than anybody now and I was sure that I would lose! Well, it was rubbish, of course, but I couldn't reassure anybody! And I played that match in Moscow, where Petrosian lives. There were excellent conditions, but I was a guest there, and it was some handicap. I got the feeling every day that I was spotting him a Pawn, you know! Also he had played a rather easy match against Huebner, while I played a strong, fighting match against Geller, and I was exhausted and couldn't recover. That was the reason I lost the match to Petrosian. Now, I don't think I'm playing better than I did three years ago. I'm not getting younger, of course, but, for instance, I gave up smoking one year ago, and I feel some force poured into my lungs. Also, now I'm going to play that match in my town, Leningrad, or at least in an neutral one, and I think my chances to beat him maybe more than they were three years ago. As to Fischer, I think he is undefeatable now. Nobody can beat him. But, of course, to play Fischer is not an easy task--it's rather dangerous! I may remind you, that during the first match that Fischer played, his opponent Taimanov was in the hospital because of blood pressure! And then during the second match, with Larsen in Denver, Larsen asked for medical help; and after the match, he spent several months in a psychiatric hospital! Everybody that played Fischer suffered soem strong blow; maybe only Petrosian was able to recover quickly-- perhaps because he already had an idea what his fate would be, and he didn't put forth any effort to beat Fischer-- he hadn't any hope-- and that's why he played the same way after the match as before. Anyway, to play Fischer is a wonderful task and it could be a good lesson for every player to play him. Although of course, it's necessary to be prepared psychologically for such a match.

Well, I'll show you the last game I played in the match with Mecking. Of course, we were exhausted because it was the 13th game and we were on the edge of starvation, you might say, starvation of mind. Mecking thought he had more forces than I because he was younger, and he won the 12th game, and he played the 13th for the win. I played White... Mecking chooses the system which Fischer often played. 13th Game Korchnoi-Mecking Candidates Quarter-finals 74 1 P04 NKB3 2 NKB3 PB4 3 P05 PK3 4 PB4 PXP 5 PXP P03 6 NB3 PKN3 7 P04 BN2 8 BK2 0-0 9 0-0 Rk1 10 NQ2 QN2 I begin my comments with this position, which occured in Game 3 of the Spassky-Fischer match. It was the first game Fischer won in his life against Spassky. Here Spassky played ... QB2, Fischer played 11...NR4, Spassky captured 12 BxN and later Fischer won the game. But it was proved by the next game that the resulting position is better for White and I was going to prove it to my opponent--maybe he didn't know! That's why I made this move.. 11 QB2 It's the wrong move! I'm convinced that the best move is 11 PQR4. But of course he didn't play the bad move 11...NR4? but played 11...NK4 Now I understood the difference between 11 QB2 and 11 PQR4, After 11 PQR4 NK4 White can play 12 PB4 N/4-N5 13 NB4 and the move 13...PQN4 is not possible because of the P on QR4. Also NxBP isn't possible, with the N on N5 unprotected. That position would be clearly better for White. But here (after 11 QB2 NK4) I can't play 12 PB4 N/4-N5 with a N-fork threat-13 NB4 PQN4 14 NxBP NxBP. Now I make this maybe strange move.. 12 PON3 But I have to develop the pieces on the Q-side. 12...PKN4 Of course he did not invent this move himself. It has been played several times and is a good plan to inhibit White's PB4. 13 BN2 PN5, Now it was necessary for me to play NQ1, with the idea of N-K3-B4 to exchange Black's very strong N on the central square K4. Or perhaps N-K3-B5. It was the right plan and maybe White has better chances. But I made the wrong move and I lost a very important tempo. 14 KRK1 I had some thought of keeping from exchanging the Bishop after 14...NR4, 15...NKB5 with KB1. It was a problem of my losing a tempo and now my opponent stands better. 14...NR4 15 NQ1 NKB5 Black threatens 16...N/4-Q6 17 BxB NxB 18 QN2 NxBch. If instead 17 BxN NxB 18 BxB NxB 16 BN5 RB1 17 NK3 QN4 This position is better for Black. Probably my best move was to play 18 BxN, although it's difficult for White to defend. I again made the wrong move... 18 NB5 Although it was consistent with my previous idea, it's better to play with an idea, even if it's the wrong one, than to have no idea at all. Any you have to do it consistently all through the game. That's why I played 18 NB5. Black has some threats here, NR6+ or NB6+. After 18...NB6+ 19 PxB BxN! (PxB+ 20 NN3, there's no mate) and I can't play 20 PxB since PxB+ leads to mate. 18...BxN 19 PxB and now he thought for nearly 45 minutes because he had two ways to win (19...NxBP and 19 NB6+)! You know, chess is not just a kind of sport, kind of science, kind of art, but it's also a kind of psychological struggle. When Fischer played Spassky, he was accused of not using chess methods of fighting. There were even rumors that he consulted some computers for help! That's nonsense--but those were the rumors! Well, when Tal was World Champion, you remember Benko played against him with dark glasses because he was afraid of being hypnotized by Tal! Well, there's something real in this--I may tell you, it's true, because, just now, I had seen the may for Mecking to win; but I made myself to be quiet, absolutely quiet; because he was thinking that I should be nervous, since he could win a Pawn immediately (19...NxBP) without any chances for me.

Well, I was quiet, and he was thinking that maybe I had some resourceful defense. He thought for 45 minutes and atlast he chooses the wrong way! Because of my quiet. I will show you how he could have won; not very complicated for a chess grandmaster. 19...NB6+ 20 NxB (Not PxB PxB+ leading to mate) PxB 21 PN3 BxB 22 QxB QxP! (22...NR6+ K moves, QxBP is bad for Black-- the Knight is badly disposed) I can't play 23 PxB because of the immediate mate. And while he was thinking, I thought, "He has a Pawn more but his K is open and maybe I have some chances. His P/B6 is strong, but it is weak, nevertheless in the ending. Also, I thought RK7 would be very strong, but later I saw the defense KRK1! was very, very strong; because I can take with the Rook once, but I cannot retake with the B because of QR6, leading to mate.

After the exchange of R's, White's position would be very poor; White's QP is very weak. Well, it's sometimes difficult to calculate long and complicated variations. We sometimes gauge a position after 1st, 2nd or 3rd, sight we accept or reject variations based on a common understanding of the position. 19...N/4-Q6 20 BxB BxB 21 QRQ1 Not 21 QxB NxB. 21...BQ5 Now if I were to play 22 BK4 to protect the 2 P's Black would play R-K1-K4, the other R-K1 and White has nothing to do-- White has a lost game. He's strong on Black squares, I'm strong on White squares that's why I chose.. 22 NK4 QxP 23 NN3 QN4 If 23...QxP 24 BxB+ KR1 25 BK4 followed by BxB attacking the R, equalizing the material, and now his K is exposed to attack. 24 BxB+ KR1 25 QB5 QR3? I must explain now, that during the match I showed an apparent superiority over Mecking in the end game. Even Pawns, or even P down or more I show that I am much better in the ending. He was afraid of me in the ending, and that is why he didn't exchange Q's, although after 25...QxQ 26 BxQ NxBP, the position is about =. The text move is the move which loses the game and the match! 26 QxNP NxBP If 26...KxB 27 NB5 Black cannot save his N and he is lost because he is a P down and his K is exposed. 27 KxB Black is very short of time and although he didn't permit me to breathe, he could not save the position! 28 RK7 RKN1 29 QB4 BK4 30 QB3 RN2 31 RxBP QB7 32 RK1 KN1 33 RK4 RKB1 34 N/4-Q6 QxRP 35 NB5 RxB+ 36 QxR+ KR2 37 QR5+ KN1 38 NR6+ KN2 39 NxB RKN1 40 NxB+ It's a shame, but I missed a mate in 1 with QR6 mate! 40...KB3 41 NN4+ RxB 42 QxR Resigns.

NWC EDITORS COMMENTS: For all Korchnoi-Mecking games see April issue of NWC, if you don't have one send $.30 for one. Korchnoi won his match with Petrosian which was held in what I guess you would call a neutral site, Odessa. Now can Korchnoi beat Karpov who looks like he will beat Spassky when I write this (score 3-1 Karpov and 10 game adj). I have typed several Korchnoi-Petrosian games from the 74 match just completed which you can find in this issue.

If Korchnoi gets past Karpov or Spassky to play Fischer I would bet he will be ready in every way to do so. He will psych himself up to play Fischer. That would be some match. I have just read Frank Brady's revised book on Fischer and I just wonder as many of you do I am sure, will Fischer even play another title match, will he show up even if he signs for a match, now Fischer wants 10 wins instead of 6 to decide the title. According to March 1974 CHESS the 1975 title match will start June 1, 1975. The FIDE committee has voted 361 to have winner be first to win 6 with the number of games not to be limited. The players must agree a venue, location, by 2/17/75 and accept regulations by 3/31/75. If you want to bid to hold the match you send your offer in by 1/2/75. If players fail to agree on the site within a month then match will be held first 15 games in USA and balance in USSR.

Newcomer Mike Thomas turned in a near-perfect score to win the Club's Monthly Speed Chess Tournament for April. Tied for 2-3 were Craig Olson and Jim Paredes.

June 21 is the date for this month's tournament. If enough interest is expressed in this type of contest, it will be extended to twice a month, or possibly made a weekly event. I know that speed chess players abound in the Seattle area, so here's your chance to make it turn a profit for you. See you there.

Pafnutieff Simultaneous

Master Vladimir Pafnutieff demonstrated his expertise by playing 15 boards in a simultaneous held at the Club on April 21. After five hours of play, he had registered 10 wins, 4 draws, and only 1 loss. Those drawing were Richard Roth, Sy Danh, Ben Carter, and John McCall. The lone victor was Mike McLean.

The Club would like to take this opportunity to thank Master Pafnutieff for his time and effort in putting on this demonstration. And thanks also to all the players who turned out, helping to make it a success.

We are currently in the process of planning more events of this nature with other top players in the area. If you have never participated in a simultaneous, you have passed up one of the more remarkable aspects of chess-playing and chess-playing ability. We hope you will turn out and try your luck. As an added incentive, we offer partial memberships and membership extensions for those who obtain a draw or a win.

After this game Crookes withdrew from the tournament, with the sad result of:
1 1 1 1 0 0 F = 4.

Morin-McLaren 1.Nf3 f5

The week before this game Chow announced that he too was withdrawing from the tournament, even though he was awarded a win in Round 6 by forfeit. This decision had two effects: It meant that, by winning the present game, Morin could win the tournament, and it also meant Morin would not get 30 rating points from the last round.

With this in mind it was clear that this game was an all-or-nothing encounter for Black. White consequently had prepared a line against the Dutch, which is known to be used in such situations. (ie. Game 10 of the Korchnoi-Tal match.)

2.e4!

Turning the tables. White will now be attacking. In the spirit of the opening would be 2....e5!, going into the Pupols special, although I'm not sure if it's really sound. As the game goes, McLaren plays much under his usual strength.

Morin*5, Fullbrook*4,
Crookes*, McLaren
Kruger*4, Chow 2 1/2
McLellan, Morton 0.

Because of the withdrawal of Morton, Chow, and Crookes, McLellan, Morin, and McLaren were all awarded points automatically. Therefore the only game to be played was Fullbrook-Kruger, for second place. And what a game.

Fullbrook-Kruger 1.e4 d6 2.d4 Nf6 3.Nc3 g6 4.f3 c6 5.Be3 Nb7 6.Qd2 b5 7.0-0-0?!

Gross but consistent. Only true devotees of the Pirc would know whether this is the best move, although I seem to remember it being a line. Or is that with the Bishop on g7? There is a significant difference, for here Kruger has an extra tempo.

7...Qa5 8.Kb1 Nb6 9.b3

Virtually forced, but this weakens the King position. 9...b4 is now a possibility, although where is the Black Queen to go to allow a5-a4xb3? 10.Ncg2 Qa3?! 11.Qd3? Ba6! and Bb5 is an option, although a permanent posting of the Queen at a3 is dangerous and its viability can only be ascertained by the theoreticians (and I don't feel like being a theoretician in public today.)

9.....Bg7?

This is silly, though, for the Bishop is clearly better at f8.

10.g4 Bd7?! 11.h4 0-0-0?!!

Black tenth and eleventh moves constitute an original idea which probably isn't any good, although the position seems to be about level. But shouldn't Black have a right to expect more out of the position? 10...h5 is the standard move, and after 11.g5 Nfd7 b4 and c5 could have been played, the White King being partially subjected to the sieve down the long diagonal.

12.Nh3 Ne8?

This seems also to be ignorant. Why not 12...Be8, to be followed by e5? If the d Pawn can be destroyed, then Black can profitably boot with b4 and c5, opening up the diagonal for his Bishop. Black has evidently forgotten that this is the objective of the entire opening.

13.Ng5 Be6 14.Nb5?!

Good grief! This sacrifice is certainly in character for the Mad Dog, but it can hardly hope to prove sound. Is Fullbrook just living off his reputation? 14.h5 was possible, trying to boot the Bishop with 15.h6, making d5 realizable. On the other hand, Fullbrook thought for three minutes before sacrificing, so maybe he figured everything out.

14...Qd2 15.Na7 Kb7 16.Rd2 Ka7 17.f5 h6 18.a4 c5 19.a5 Na8 20.de6 hg5 21.Bc5 dc5 Material clearly is not being counted for a brief interlude. Do not adjust your chess sets.

22.Rd8 fa6 23.h5 Nec7

The smoke has cleared a little, and it is hard to say who has the edge. White's weaknesses on the dark squares may prove to be a serious handicap if Black ever gets going.

24.Rh3 gh5 25.Rh5 Rh5 26.g5 Nf6 27. Ka2 Na6 28.e5 Nb4 29.Kb1 Nfd5 30.h6 Be5??

A gross miscalculation, as Black does not have a mate. After the simple 30...Bh6 Black would have the edge, although he might run out of Pawns.

EDITORIAL

Thanks to Bruce Harper for taking over the B. C. section while we were 'abroad'. We were also pleased with the volume and quality of contributions this month, though we hope to be even more pleased next month! Remember, you won't see it if you don't send it in!

The BC Championship will be over by the time the magazine reaches you. A full report will be in the July issue. This event promises once again to be the strongest tournament in the Northwest.

The Canadian Open will be held in Montreal, July 27th to August 5th. There are $7500 guaranteed in prizes, with a total of 38 prizes of cash in the Open section alone. There will also be a 'B' section for players rated under 1400 only, with $300 first and 41 other prizes in cash. What's even better, the entry fees are only $12 in the open ($15 after July 19), and $4 in the 'B' section ($7). Very reasonable accommodation ($20 per week) will be available for students at the University of Montreal. For further information, entries, and accommodation reservation, write to Montreal Chess League, PO Box 104, Station D, Montreal, PQ, Canada. The tournament is sponsored by LaPresse Newspaper and the Montreal Chess League.

Junior Chess

The first annual Junior Chess Tournament was held on Monday March 25th, 1974. The tournament was a 6 round Swiss, with the final results as follows:

- 1st Central Junior Secondary (Victoria)
- 2nd Victoria Secondary (Victoria)
- 3rd Vancouver Technical Secondary (Vancouver)
- 4th University Hill Secondary (Vancouver)
- 5th Centennial Secondary (Coquitlam)
- 6th David Thompson Secondary (Vancouver)
- 7th John Oliver Secondary (Vancouver)
- 8th Howe Sound Secondary (Squamish)
- 9th Abbotsford Sr. Secondary (Abbotsford)
- 10th Highland Elementary (Prince George)
- 11th Point Grey Secondary (Vancouver)
- 12th North Vancouver Sr. Secondary (North van)
- 13th Mount Prevost Secondary (Duncan)
- 14th Walter Lee Elementary (Richmond)

The tournament director was E.C. Boire; A.C. Hare sponsored the tournament; and Brian Potter opened the tournament.

If anyone is interested in finding out more about Junior Chess, they should contact Mr. A. C. Hare at 1978 W. 43rd Avenue, Vancouver BC.

Smithers Chess Club

We were delighted to receive reports of three tournaments from Z Sarac of Smithers. In his letter, he makes the following comment.

"I must admit that I was disappointed when I read the article in Northwest Chess, March, 74 issue. The article in essence underscores the fact that the bulk of chess activities, planning, development and implementation is carried out by a few, indeed, too few, individuals who receive little support and no remuneration. Most chess organizers are knee deep in voluntary activities and commitments such as organizing tournaments, serving as tournament directors, as contacts with the BCCF and CFC concerning all correspondence, preparation of tournament reports and their submission, collection of fees and dues: all of these activities to be conducted in their so-

B C CHESS FEDERATION ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

The 'AGM' will be held on June 15, 1974 at 11:00 a.m. in room 307 of the Vancouver Public Library, Burrard and Robson, Vancouver. Amendment of the Constitution will again be on the agenda. The Department of National Revenue has certain requirements for organizations which wish to register as Charitable or Non-Profit for the purpose of soliciting contributions. At present I am not sure that will be able to qualify at all because our members do benefit financially from our operations which is contrary to the Act. Notice received from Brian Potter, BCCF President.

called 'Spare time'! Surely support from the ECCF and CFC must be forthcoming if chess activity is to develop and grow, not only in British Columbia, but throughout Canada."

This is all very fine, but if you're thinking of monetary support for organizers, forget it! Chessplayers come from all walks of life and have varying temperaments. But there is a description which fits most of us - cheap. A chess-player who thinks that $5 a year is too much to belong to the CFC is going to rant and rave at the sight of organizers being paid from his pocket. As far as other support for organizers is concerned, we believe that the CFC and BCCF do a reasonable job, considering their limited resources.

Directed by RAY & EUNICE KERR AND LYNN STRIGER, all of Victoria (Help stop foreign domination! Organize a tournament!)

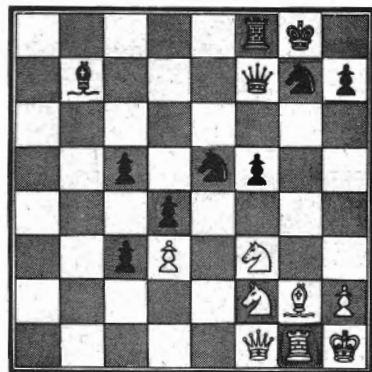

We were pleased to see some of our former students do quite well in their sections. Numbers 11, 19, 38 and 49 were all students at the UBC Department for Continuing Education Chess Course over the past two years (The foregoing was a non-paid non-political announcement)

All ratings are CFC. "Goichberg" system used for tiebreaks. (That is, the sum of the player's score after each round, unless there are any forfeit wins or losses.)

This year, the Annual Kelowna Tournament was held in the modern, air-conditioned facilities of the Kelowna Recreation Centre. Though not especially well-attended, the tournament was considered a success by its organizers. All costs were covered, and some money was left for cash prizes to complement the three trophies and eight books given.

First overall was taken by Pete Danenhowe, now residing in Quesnel. He took the tournament with a fine attack and rook sacrifice against Alex Wood in the last round. Tied for second-third were Mike Westbrook of Kamloops (presently studying at UBC) and Jack Taylor of Vancouver (the 1929-30 B.C. Champ.).

Eleven other prizes of money and/or books were won by players placing 1-2-3 A, B, and C and 1-2 Unrated. The small Junior Section saw all players walk away with a prize. Sam Lysne got the upset prize for his third round victory over Wolfgang Mueller.

SOUTHERN SOJOURN

While on the way to visit my parents in Mexico, I took the opportunity to play in three tournaments. (Or is it the other way around?)

The first was the National Open in Las Vegas. The premier performer from the Northwest was Peter Biyiasas, who scored 6½-1½. Other familiar names were: Randy Dean, Viktors Pupols, and this writer with 6 points, and Leo Stefurak with 5½. Fred Nedell and Michael Spiegel also took part, but I can't remember their scores, the same with Bill Miller.

After suffering an early defeat at the hands of an 'A' player, I worked my way to the top boards, only to let my opponents (Roy Ervin and Larry Kaufman) escape from bad positions with draws. Meanwhile Biyiasas was slipping out of some tight situations to make 3 draws, before defeating B Rawley of Arizona in the last round.

My game with Ervin was carried in NWC May.

Here is another interesting example
 White: BERRY English Opening 50/120
 Black: NEDELL Round 5, Board 23

1 g3 e5
 2 Bg2 Nf6
 3 c4 Nc6
 4 Nc3 Bb4
 5 e4 Bxc3 3,11
 This system is not so good with the BN on c6, as he can no longer break in the centre with c6 and d5, as in Smyslov - Mackering from the Petropolis Interzonal. White now maintains a useful space advantage and can, after due preparation, put his Bishop pair to good use.
 6.bc3 0-0

 White has the Wedge on f5, which guarantees him a permanent spacial edge on the K-side. In such a situation it is not wise to construct a blockade, even if you do have Ns vs Bs.

The freak parade then moved to Lone Pine, Cal, for the Fourth Annual Louis Statham Masters-plus. An obviously out-of-form Biyiasas got 4-3, after managing only 1½ points from the first 4 rounds. Dennis Waterman and this writer got 3½-3½, while Viktors Pupols had 1½-5½.

I got crushed by Waterman in the following epic.

White: Waterman Ruy Lopez

 The N should go to e7. Waterman told me after the game that Dennis Fritzinger had made exactly the same mistake in a previous game, so he knew what to do.

The final leg of the tour took me to Guadalajara Mexico for the 1974-1975 Mexican Open. It had always been a puzzle for me why the Mexicans never announce their tournaments in CL&R. It turns out that the tournaments are never organized until the last minute. Apparently a month before the start of the Open, there was still doubt as to whether the site would be Mexico City or Guadalajara!

This time I came terribly close to losing in round 3, when I won a piece in the middle game, but then succeeded in getting into a lost position in the ending (I was anxious to get away and get to sleep), but was the glad recipient of an oversight on my opponent's part on the next move. Subsequently I kept out of trouble, allowing only a draw with Kenneth Frey. The two of us finished on top with 7½-1½, a full point up on the field, which included all of Mexico's top players (Mario Campos Lopez got 6-2). As things would have it, I won the tiebreak and with it the title of Mexican Open Champion. In the following game, black fails to get his pieces out, and ends up getting immolated on f7.

White: BERRY Modern banana?
 Black: FLORES Round 2, Board 10 40/2

1 c4 Nf6

 At least he could have played ...a6. The opening system chosen by black leads to too much weakening on the black squares, and hence cannot be recommended.

 White was approaching the time control at this point, and makes his technical task more difficult.
 44 Kcl Kxd6 45 Rh5 should present no problems.

 46 Rh5 Bc6?
 Better was ...d2

With the d & e pawns rotated 90 degrees, everything would be OK

SOLUTIONS FOR APRIL: No.117 (Weenick) 1.Qc4
There are changes to 1...Pc6 and 1...Pc5 from the set to post-key, both these being self-blocks. Note also the Grimshaw (mutual inter-ferences) by the B and P on c6. This is one of the finest miniatures ever produced. No.118 (Williams) 1.Rg4, waiting. The set 1...Kc1, 2.Qc6 and post-key 1...Kc1, 2.Rc4 changes are ideal pin-mates. Ideal mates also come after the other two BK flights. No.119 (Moore) 1.Se3, waiting. Ten variations follow, although there are duals after moves like 1...Qh2. Surprisingly many were caught by the try 1.Se7? (2.Sc6) which is defeated by 1...Pc3! A very nice problem despite the duals. No.120 (Blodiva) 1.Se2
(2.Sf4) The theme is black unpins of the BR, by 1...Pf5, 2.Qe7 and 1...Sf5, 2.Qd7. A few were foiled by the try 1.Se4? Sa6! Hopefully, recent political events in Portugal will not prevent Mr.
Blodiva from sending more originals.

No.121 (Taffs) 1.Sa3 Pe3, 2.Kd1 Ke4, 3.Sg3# and 1...Ke3, 2.eSd4 Pxd4, 3.Sc2# Good, but what really "makes" this problem is the changed play from the set: 1...Pe3, 2.Sa3 and 1...Kxc4, threat, 2.Qc3+. 1...Qxe4, 2.Sc6+. 1...fSxe4,

2.Sd3+. 1...dSxe4, 2.Sf7+. The comment from R.C.O.Matthews: The theme looks as if it is going to be self-pinning on the e-file. It turns out instead to be self-pinning on the diagonal.
No.123 (Breuer) 1.Bf3! Rf5, 2.Ba8! Rf2, 3.Rh2+.
1...Ra2, 2.Rg3+ Rg2, 3.Rxg2. Dr. E.E.Zepler comments: this shows a block Roman with remarkable elegance. The B-R battery is an intrinsic part of the chosen matrix. In the Roman theme, black can adequately defeat an incorrect try,
here it is: 1.Ba8? Ra2, 2.Rg3+ Rg2, 3.Rxg2 Pf5!

and white cannot discover mate. This defence is provided for by a new threat (1.Bf3) but allows a new defence. This new defence now blocks the possible move 2...Pf5? Therefore it is called a block Roman. This theme can also be used with other black errors like unpinning, self-pinning, interferences, etc. Another example is: J.Moller, "Skakbladet" 1911 k7/P1p5/P1r1S1k1/1S4p1/4Q3/8/2r5/2b5. #3 1.Qd5? Bxg5!

No.124 (Holladay) a)2nd rank 1.Kf1 (tempo
key) Kd3, 2.Kf2 Ke4, 3.Kg3 Kf5, 4.Kh4 Bg5+.
5.Kh5 Pg4# b) diagonal 1.Kh2 Ke3, 2.Kg3 Bf5, 3.
Kh4 Kf4, 4.Kh5 Bg4+, 5.Kh4 Pg3# tempo switchback
by black king. This shows echo ideal mates.

Expert Bob Brieger's No.139 is probably not too original as a S vs B 4-mover; but, as discovered by Eric Bone, the black bishop can be placed on only one square. If it starts anywhere else, there is no solution! Therefore, the solver must find its weakest square and determine the key which beats it.

In a kind of fairy-tale, it might go like this: The old composer just died, knocking a black bishop off the board as he keeled over.
The investigating coroner, being a problem solver, decided to replace the bishop. But where? - Another tale might be: Just as the problem composing computer was completing its read-out for its latest work, lightning struck and fused all the circuits, disabling it to say where that last piece should go.

No.139 is worth 7 points, and must include the correct square for the BB and the key.
The four parts to No.140 are worth 3 points each, total of 12. The maximum for this months' collection is 39.

BOBBY FISHER IS A FISH! ARE YOU?

- PISCES THAT IS— FEB. 19 — MAR. 20. YOU'RE IN GOOD COMPANY IF YOU ARE. IN COMPANY WITH BOBBY MANY ILLUSTRIOUS NAMES IN THE CHESS WORLD WERE BORN UNDER THE FISH. AND FORTUNATELY, ACCORDING TO MY ASTROLOGICAL BOOK, IT IS WELL WITHIN BOBBY'S POWER TO OVERCOME ANY TIMIDITY OR RESERVE.
28. HE WAS FAMOUS FOR HIS VENTURESOME AND UNORTHODOX STYLE. WAS GRADUATED FROM U OF VIENNA 1909 WHERE HE OBTAINED HIS DOCTOR OF LAWS DEGREE. FIRST AT HASTINGS 1926, 27 AND 45.
29. A CONTENDER FOR THE WORLD TITLE — WAS ADMITTED TO THE LEIPZIG INTL. TOURNAMENT 1894 WHEN HE WAS TWENTY YEARS OLD. HIS LITERARY MASTERPIECE WAS THE 1916 REVISION OF BILGIER'S HANDBUCH.
30. SECOND ONLY TO ALEKHINE IN WINNING BRILLIANCY PRIZES, WAS THE AUTHOR OF CHESS PILOT AND MANUAL OF THE END-GAME. COULD ALWAYS BE RELIED UPON FOR A COLORFUL GAME.

THATS WHAT HAPPENS WHEN ONE TRIES TO MOVE AHEAD TOO
FAST

Dear Russ,

I want to tell you how very much I am enjoying the May issue of Northwest Chess. I really got a good laugh out of David L. Brown's article, A Tournament Director's Nightmare. I'm sure you and other directors of tournaments know the feelings David Brown has so exciting described. It certainly was a fine article. I have been trying to persuade our local newspaper, The Daily Olympian, to run a weekly article on Chess. However, I do not know who the various writers of Chess articles are or what they charge for their services. Can you help me out in this regard? (Ed: see page 29 of USCF 1974 Yearbook and Catalog)

Finally, we (Olympia Chess Club) are now meeting at the Lacey Community Center, 1147 S.E. Willow St. Lacey, which is right next door to Olympia. Hopefully, this will be our permanent new meeting place.

Puget Sound League Playoff Notes by Collyer

Fritz Scholz (UofW) Dave Collyer (Tacoma CC)
1 PK4 PK4 2 NKB3 NQB3 3 BN5 PQR3 4 BR4 NB3 5 O-0 BK2 6 RKL PQN4 7 BN3 O-0 8 PB3 PQ4 (The Marshall Attack. Interestingly enough of 5 games in this playoff match, two of the defenses were Marshall's and Black won twice. I had never played this before, but felt it would be sufficient for an active game.) 9 PXP NXP 10 NXP NXP 11 RXP PQB3 12 BXP PXP 13 PQ4 BQ3 14 RKL QR5 15 PKN3 QR6 16 RK3? BKN5 (White probably should have played B-K3 then if B-KN5 17. Q-Q3 which protects against mate on KN2.) 17 QB1 QR4 18 PB3 BR6 19 QB2 PB4 (White's position is not lost, but he does need to develop his Queenside. Black needs to play actively.) 20 RKL QRK1 21 BQ2 PB5 22 PKN4 QN4 23 NR3 PKR4 (Black wins back a pawn with a better position.) 24 RXP RXP 25 RKL RXP 26 BXR BK2! (Preventing the immediate exchange of Queens at KR4) 27 QK2 PXP 28 PXP BXP 29 QK5 BB4ch 30 KB2 QR5ch 31 KK2 QXPch 32 KQ1 BN5ch 33 KB1 BXP 34 QXPch KR2 35 PXP QK7 36 QK5 QXQ (Black must now hold back White's pawns and try to prevent White's black-square barricade.) 37 PXP BK3 38 KQ2 KN3 39 BB2 KB4 40 BQ4 KK5 41 KK2 PN4 42 PR4 BXP 43 PXP PXP 44 PK6 BXP 45 BB6 PN5 46 BN5 BB5ch 47 KB2 PN6ch 48 KN2 BK7 49 and White resigns in a few more.

WHITE: Michael Spiegel BLACK: Pat Herbers
Nov 1973, Seattle. Notes by Spiegel

1. PK4 PKN3 2 PQ4 BN2 3 NQB3 PQ3 4 PB4 NKB3 5 PKR3 O-0
6 NB3 PB4 7 BK3 QR4 8 QO2 NB3 9 PQ5! Taking certain risks by weakening the points K5 and Q4, and opening Black's long diagonal, this move will, however, throw the game into original channels. 9...NQN5 10 BQ3 PQN4 Black cannot really play 10...PB5, 11 KBXP NXP, 12 NXP NXPch 13 KQ2 QXQch, 14 KXQ, NXR, 15 RXP BXP, 16 RQ1 strongly favoring White. 11 O-0 NxB 12 PXP PB5! 12...PN5 seems better to keep the strong point on Black's Q5, followed at some time by BQR3. White would then break with PQR3. 13 NQ4 PN5 14 N/3-K2 PXP 15 NB6 QB2 Black seems to have better chances with 15 NXP, 16 QXP QR3 (16...NB4, 17 QB2 is good for White) 17 QXN, QXN, 18 RB2 QN4, 19 PQR4! PXP. (19...QR3, 20 QXKP is very strong for White) 20 NXPch KR1, 21 RXP RKL (not 21...BXP, 22 RxB!) with chances for both sides though it seems better for white. 16 QXP QR4 17 RKL The only good way to meet Black's next move. 17...BR3 18 QB2 RKB1 Better is the QR. 18. N/2-Q4 PK3 20 PXP PXP 21 QN3 PQ4 22 PXP PXP 23 BB2! BB5 24 QB2 So Black cannot play 24...NK5 because of 25 RXP 24...RKL 25 NK5! Threatens PQN3. But not immediately 25 PQN3 BR3, 26 NK7ch? RXP 25...QRB1 26 QR1 QN2 27 QR4 BQR3 Played to be able to put the N on K5, because of 27...NK5, 28 RXP, but now Black's game falls apart. The only way to try to hold the rook pawn is 27...QR3 28. PN3 BQ6, but 29 N/5-B6 makes things difficult again. 28. QXP NK5 29 N/4-B6! A nice blocking move played so that at the Black QP is left unprotected. Now if 29...BXP, 30 QXP ch. If 29...BB5, 30 NXP QXP 31 NK5! QXR? 32 QXPch KR1 33.

NB7ch KN1 34 NR6ch KR1 35 QN8ch RXP 36 NB7 mate. 29...BN4 Black blocks in return. 30 NXP! Which not only protects the QP but opens the QB file so that 30...RKL is perfectly answered by 31 QB7. 30...BXP 31 PXP QKB2 32 QR7! White has also this square. Black tries another blocking move. 32...BQ2 33 PR3 RRL 34 QO4 RKB1 35 RB1? Black has been under heavy time pressure the last few moves, but it is White who blunders in Black's time pressure! Of course, correct is 35 BK3 NN6 (What else?) 36 NXP NB4 37 NB6ch ends it. 35...BN4 36 QXP BXP 37 RXP NXP 38 RXP QXP 39 NXP Black has to make six moves now in a few seconds. Divine retribution almost requires his next move. 39...RKL! 40 NB6ch Resigns A very interesting game, despite the error in time pressure.

FIVE EXPERTS CLASH IN CLARK COUNTY OPEN

Vancouver, Washington was the site of one of the strongest small tournaments held in the Portland area for some time. Five experts squared off to produce a winner from the North.

If confidence influences success then D. Leo Stefurak will be (or is already) a great chess player. D. Leo met the tournaments toughest and yielded only a draw to Mike Schemm in the final round. Leo's Sicilian stood the test against Schemm's assault. Bill Heywood won a difficult end game against Byron Perala to gather in the second place honors. Dave White seemed as strong as ever in scoring 3½ points while facing the tournaments toughest competition per tie breaker points.

Pat Maloney, playing in his first tournament in over a year, appeared rusty in the early rounds but finished strong. Dr. Frank Fry represented the host Fort Vancouver Chess Club well in winning the unrated section, while Doug Morse played well (and careful) in putting the Class C $15 in his 'bib overalls'.

Stuart Pearson and Dennis Schave, both from Elma, Wa. seemed to have the same winning ways as they pushed to wins in their respective B and C classes. Mark Erickson and Rick Haynes "drew" the Class A prize money.

The comments seemed favorable regarding the Marshall Community Center as a playing site. The free coffee was expected, but the free donuts (both days) were a pleasant surprise. Increasing the prize fund in a guaranteed tournament was also a new twist. The Fort Vancouver Chess Club is planning another tournament this fall (larger), but in the interim, all are welcome to join us every Friday evening from seven to eleven - no charge- at the Marshall Community Center.

The Columbia Basin Open was Ephrata's first tournament to be rated both USCF and NW and sponsored by the new Columbia Basin Chess Assoc.. The poor player turnout was caused by the Apple Blossom Open in Wenatchee the same weekend. Chess organizers should start being more concerned about scheduling conflicting tournaments in the same general area. When this happens it tends to cut attendance to each tourney and causes uncalled for competition for the players.

Ray Fasano came 120 miles to win the tournament untouched except for a last round draw with Teddy Garoutte. Robert Hollern and Gary M. Garrison tied for second and first C. Top B was Teddy Garoutte, top D was Mike McGee and Kevin Dirks, with Tom Rex and Cruz Martinez taking E-UNR.. TD: Teddy Garoutte.
