Greetings from the Editor

Yes, indeed, Palm Springs was hot! Typical high 110-117° with a low of 85-90°. I tied for second U2000 and Carol tied for first U1600 at this year's U.S. Geezer

Editor's Desk

Next issue will feature the Sluggers and the Seafair. I also have some historical articles and a short story.

Nevertheless, please send in your games, articles and pictures! I need material to work on.

Best Wishes, Frederick K. Kleist

Thanks to R. Miller for working on the crosstables. Thanks to C. Kleist for proofreading.

Anka, Koons and Lee Tie in Harmon Memorial

Clark Harmon was a long-time member of the Portland Chess Club, thus the Club felt it could honor his memory with a tournament. Unfortunately, the timing of the tournament conflicted with the Evergreen Empire Open in Tacoma. This was the only time that GM Emil Anka, a good friend of Clark Harmon, could come and play. As it turned, Anka could start only with round three (due to other commitments), entering the tournament with 1 1/2 points.

Now to the results: GM Anka did win the three games he played, but NMs Nat Koons and Michael Lee were able to tie for first place with the same end result of 41/2 points. Koons and Lee drew their round four game, then followed this up by winning their last round matches. Nick Raptis was the lucky (or unlucky, depending on one's perspective) player who had to play the GM in the last round. He hung in there for quite a while, it was the last game to finish.

The U-2000 prizes were split between Robert Herrera and Steve Surak with four points each. In the U-1700 category, the honors went to Brett Becker and Joel Porter with 2½ points each. I feel that Joel did extremely well in this strong tournament (average rating of 1778) to achieve an even score. The U-1400 prizes were split between two young players, Samir Sen and Jason Lin. A total of 43 players showed up for the tournament. Hopefully the Portland Chess Club can repeat this tournament in the future and avoid scheduling conflicts.

Bellevue, WA

The Seattle Sluggers have an even score after two matches in U.S. Chess League play. The team opened with a 1.5-2.5 loss to the Boston Blitz, the sole decisive game being a board four loss by NM Michael Lee. The second match went much better as IM Eric Tangborn, FM Slava Mikhailuk, and NM Josh Sinanan scored wins in a 3.5-0.5 rout of the Miami Sharks. GM Gregory Serper has two draws on board one versus fellow GMs. Slava has scored 1½ points. FM Loren Schmidt had a draw on board three in the first match.

Games from these and perhaps the September 12 match against Tennessee will appear in the October issue.

Cherry Hill, Revisited

by Murlin Varner

nother August, another U. S. Open: however, not another town. The 108th U. S. Open returned to the New Jersey site of the 103rd, Cherry Hill. We visited the same hotel, although with a new name, and the highest room rate ever for an Open. This area of New Jersey is a random patchwork of disorganized suburbs. I chose to stay in nearby Maple Shade. My cost for both motel and rental car was less than would have been the cost for a room at the site. And I had a kitchen! This was my tenth Open in a row and I'm finally getting smarter about these things. (Too bad my chess play doesn't get any smarter.) For those who care and haven't already looked it up on the Internet, there was a seven-way tie for first this year: GM Alexander Shabalov, GM Boris Gulko, GM Sergey Kudrin, IM Benjamin Finegold, GM Michael Rohde, IM Michael Mulyar, and Anton Del Mundo each scored 7.5/9.

The turnout was nothing special. Actually, it was rather bad. Excluding house players, there were only 405 entrants among the four different schedules. This is the lowest since the event was held in Hawaii ten years ago. This turnout was over ninety players below the 2002 event at Cherry Hill and almost fifty entrants below the average over the past ten years. For a site within a few hours drive of over one third of all USCF members, this was pretty bad. (This year's event was almost 25% below last year's event in Illinois.)

I suspect that the low turnout was greatly related to the return visit to New Jersey, as well as the high room cost. This Open could be called the "Kids and Geezers Open." If you took away the players over 50 and under 20, there would not be many left. The kids were there, because they hadn't been there five years ago, and the geezers (like me) were there because they go every year, regardless. To illustrate, my first four opponents were all, like me, over 50 (or so they appeared), and my last five were under 20 (actually, only one appeared to be over 15). Our Northwest contingent underscores this young/old trend, leaning waaaay to the young side.

First, lets go over the old guys. Highest scoring was Dan Mayers (1899) from Idaho, with a score of 5.5/9. Dan has been going to the Open for many years and always does well. Among his accomplishments this year were a win over Charles Bouzoukis (2277) of Delaware and draws with Lorand Kis (PA, 2207) and Stanley Yang (TX, 2082). Dan's only losses were to master-rated players. Also scoring 5.5 was Oregonian Herman Chiu (2026). Herman has been on a temporary assignment in Pennsylvania and stayed on this summer to play in a few events such as the World and U S Opens. Herman accomplished draws with two masters (Zakhar Fayvinov, PA, 2200 and Robert Rowley, AZ, 2208), and his only losses were also to masters.

Next we have David Fulton (1800), an Oregonian recently relocated from Pennsylvania. David had other reasons to be in the area, but found time to play in the Open as well. When I talked to him at the Harmon Memorial in Portland earlier this summer, he wasn't sure he'd be able to play, but I was glad to see that he worked it out. David scored five points, including a draw with Carl Harmon in round four (more on Carl below). Sadly, David was denied his last game when his opponent decided to take off early without informing the directors. Most of us go to these things to play the games, and it is just rude when an opponent pulls this on you. Finally, we have Murlin Varner (1530) (that's me!). I managed to score 3.5/9, just a little below my average performance at the Open. As mentioned above, my first four opponents were geezers like me, except with higher ratings. I managed to obtain two draws, with Roger Smith (MO, 1773) and Clive Usiskin (NJ, 1700). The game with Clive was a rematch of the seventh round of the 2003 Open in Los Angeles. Clive won that one, so I got a little revenge this time. In the final five rounds, I played the kids, breaking even. My loss in the sixth round was to Gabriel Tkach (PA, 1140), my only upset loss of the event. Happily, for him, he went on to win first in class E, collecting $1000. He didn't send me a gratuity. In the final round, I played my first opponent from outside the Western Hemisphere. as I drew with Ning Hou, a young girl from China.

Take my Rooks!

That's it for the adults. Just four out of the 21 players hailing from Washington, Oregon and Idaho. By the way, we in the Northwest still outshine many other areas of the country in terms of attendance at the Open. Compare, if you will, to some other clusters of three states with roughly three times the membership of our three states: Michigan, Indiana and Illinois had a total of only 12 players, and Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana had but 17...c5 18.c3 f5 19.cxd4 fxe4 20. 豐xe4 13. membership and within easy driving distance, yet they only managed a total of 31 entrants, only ten more than our little remote corner of the country.

Now for the more youthful Northwesterners, which includes the six money winners from our area. Top scoring was Andy May (2068) of Washington, who had an excellent tournament, scoring 7/ 9. Andy lost to a couple of masters in the first five rounds, then finished strong with four straight wins, beating masters Ryan Milisits (TX, 2221) and Norman Rogers (PA, 2281) in the final two rounds. For his efforts, Andy finished in a tie for 8-18th place, and received $1500 as his share for 1st-2nd Expert (tied with twotime Polgar winner Abby Marshall). Next, we find Washingtonian Michael Lee (2251), scoring 6.5 points. If you read the blog on the USCF website by the aforementioned Ms. Marshall, you would have read that she only lost one game, to a "boy." Michael was that "boy." Michael pretty well performed according to his ever-increasing rating (he gained seven rating points from this tournament). His only losses were to a pair of players rated over 2400. Michael Mulyar (CO, 2428) and Amon Simutowe (TX, 2455).

At six points, we find Corbin Yu (2054) of Oregon. Corbin really had his share of highly rated opponents, facing five with ratings between 2307 and 2399. Corbin defeated Daniel Shapiro (NY, 2326) and drew with Mackenzie Molner (NJ, 2325) and Elliott Yu (CA, 2307). In the first round, Corbin had one of those why-did-we-travel-so-far? moments, when he defeated Nathan Lee of Washington (more on Nathan later). Two Northwest youths joined Mayers and Chiu at 5.5 points, Ethan Peake (1908) of Oregon and Megan Lee (1571) of Washington. Ethan had a good run in rounds 5-8 against a collection of experts, defeating Matthew Grinberg (VA, 2050) and Michael Zhang (CA, 2068) while drawing with Jeffrey Haskel (FL, 2130) and John Rinaldo (CA, 2056), who, I believe, has a win over Bobby Fischer some

A large cluster of Northwest youth joined Fulton at five points. These include Washingtonians Darren Wu (1900) and Dakota Dixon (1794), and Idahoans Daniel Taylor (1862), Kenrick Barkell (1784) and (frequent Washington visitor) Luke Harmon (1590). Darren lost his first game and his last, but no others, and had a real nice run against a string of five experts in a row, with wins over George Maxfield (NJ, 2050) and Jonathan Cohen (NJ, 2059) and draws with Tenzing Shaw (IL, 2128), Donald Danlag (CA, 2036) and John McArthur (NY, 2032). Dakota finished his tournament strong with three straight wins to close out his five points. Kenrick scored four of his five wins against experts, and faced only one player rated lower than he. This earned Kenrick $250 as a share of 3rd-4th Class B. Luke finished with three points in the last four rounds (two wins, two draws) against a string of Class A players, and received $500 for his share of 2nd-4th in Class C.

USCF Delegates' Meeting

The situation of the USCF is improving, so said USCF President Bill Goichberg. Not only did overall membership rise between May 2006 and May 2007 from 80,623 to 81,827, but adult membership (when the "Young Adult" category is included) appeared to have risen as well. The latter Goichberg attributed to the "internet dues sale" [Post hoc, ergo propter hoc?]. Indeed, although the "financial impactof the dues sale was . . . slightly negative," the federation showed an operating income of about $23,000.

Executive Director Bill Hall posited that more "contact" with members—tournment activity, the MSA ratings pages, Chess Life Online, and, potentially, personal web-pages on the USCF site—is the key to member retention. He also displayed a worrisome graph showing a very high membership peak at age 10 and two much lower peaks just after age 40 and just before age 60. The two lower peaks have been decreasing in height and adavncing in age over recent years—a graphic illustration of Murlin's "Kids and Geezers" concept.

VP of Finance Joel Channing said that the USCF was still in recovery and that the surplus was largely due to an accounting change. He also noted the frequent presence of a "cash flow gap" which requires that the USCF carry a $150,000 line of credit.

The rest of the reports were generally upbeat. Some examples:

- People are responding to the new-look Chess Life, Chess Life for Kids is one of few fourcolor chess publications for children, Chess Life Online features timely and lively reporting-Daniel Lucas, Director of Publications
- Bessel Kok, whose bid for the FIDE Presidency was backed by the USCF, is now chairman of FIDE Global Chess which will manage and market the World Championship-Clay Kelleher, FIDE Vice-President

There were a few things about the direction of this tournament that bothered me. Of course, I am only a local TD, so maybe I am not up on all the nuances of being an NTD. One problem was that they didn't use alphabetical pairing sheets. When you are trying to find a name among 200 boards, these sheets really help, and should have been used. Additionally, the crosstables were sometimes sorted by rating and sometimes by score. I found sorting by score to be more difficult to use, especially since the scores included half-point byes for rounds not yet completed. Finally, in looking through the completed crosstable, there are a number of strange byes where no byes should have been awarded. I consider such byes to be the director covering for some sort of screw-up. Daniel Taylor's results are one such case. Daniel scored five points, but only half of them came over the board. He took HPBs in rounds 2, 3 and 5. He won in rounds one and three (including a defeat of 2200 rated Denis Strenzwilk of Maryland) and lost in round six. This gave him 3.5/6. Round seven shows Daniel receiving a full point bye. I know this is not in my Local TD handbook. I can only assume that there was some major, uncorrected screw-up involving his pairing. This is not Daniel's fault, by any means, but the directors at a national event should do better than this, especially since there are byes like this in just about every round. Remember Abby Marshall, the one who lost to Michael Lee and tied Andy May for top expert? Her tournament started with a full point bye. As an expert, I cannot imagine that she was the lowest rated player in her schedule, and therefore believe this shows another screw-up. This was the smallest Open in nine years, I would expect better of a staff of NTDs.

At four points were Oregonians Marcus Robinson (1833) and Taylor Bailey (1645), Nathan Lee (1741) of Washington and another of our frequent visitors from Idaho, Carl Harmon (1446). Marcus was a drawmaster at the Open, playing eight. The most significant was in the first round when he drew with Master Charles Bouzoukis (DE. 2277). Taylor used only half as many draws, her best being with Jonathan Lamdan of New Jersey (1920). I mentioned earlier Nathan's opening round game with Corbin Yu. His first six rounds went in the fashion typical of a large tournament for someone with a rating near the middle, alternating losses to significantly higher rated players with wins over substantially lower rated players. Nathan changed that pattern in rounds seven and eight, drawing with New Jersevites Kevin Dresher (1940) and Timothy Hall (2000). Carl managed to score his four points while facing only one lower rated player the entire tournament. He was also a drawmaster, staying even with Donna Alarie (MA, 1778), David Fulton (OR, 1800, another why-did-we-travel-so-far? pairing), Janice Chen (UT, 1767) (If that name seems familiar, it is because I mentioned that I had drawn with her in last vear's article.) (Like you have any reason to remember last year's article.), and Gordon Barrett (NV, 1720). Carl finished with a win over Eve Zhurbinskiv (NJ.

1670) and was rewarded with $75 for his share of 4th Class D.

Joining me at 3.5 points was Sompoth Supathanasinkasaem (1159) of Oregon, winner of the long-ally an award like that, don't be so gullible). With a rating below 1200, it would usually take a few rounds to face someone with a lower rating. If one has some success in the early rounds, it might never happen. It never happened for Sompoth, because he did have success, a lot of it, against those higher rated players, drawing with Frank Vogel (RI, 1666) and defeating Walter Schreiner (AZ, 1700), Charles Hatherill (NV, 1553) and Albert Makatenas (NJ. 1449). Sompoth received $500 as his share of 2nd-3rd Class E. After this and other recent performances, Sompoth will no longer be competing for Class E prizes as his rating is now just short of 1500.

Finally, at three points we find Washingtonians Sarah May (1481) and Darryl Wu (1399). Sarah started out great with a win in the first round over Ankur Bakshi (NJ. 2022), and then drew with Thomas McCumiskey (VA, 1860) in round three. She was even after four rounds then struggled to the end with a steady diet of high Class B opponents. Darryl didn't face a lower rated player until the last round, in a large part because he defeated Roger Smith (MO, 1773) in round two. In rounds five and six Darryl had back-to-back draws with James Canty (MI, 1664) and John Frank (PA, 1706).

There were other events to discuss as well. The Denker Tournament of State High School Champions had a record turnout, with representatives from 48 states and D. C. The event was won by Warren Harper of Texas with 5.5/6. Andy May was Washington's representative and tied for 6th with 4/6. Andy scored two significant draws, with Nicholas Yap (CA, 2300) in round two and Daniel Yeager (PA, 2341) in round six. Ethan Peake represented Oregon. Ethan scored 3.5/6 to tie for 13th place. In the final round, Ethan defeated Jayson Lian (2089) of New Jersey. Way to treat the hosts, dude! What I like about this type of tournament is all these players get to meet and compete with their contemporaries from around the U.S., with little risk of playing someone for the umpteenth time, as is often the case in local tournaments. I mean, where else can you do est surname award what Daniel Taylor, Idaho's representa-(no there is not re- tive, did and play opponents from both nament? Especially when you consider the event was in New Jersey! Daniel scored 2.5/6 and tied for 32nd.

The Polgar Invitational Tournament for Girls also had some Northwest representatives. Forty-eight girls representing forty states competed in this event. Missouri, Utah, Texas, Florida, New Jersey and Washington each had two representatives and New York had three. The cochampions were Julia Kerr (NY, 2008) and Eunice Rodriguez (FL, 1735). Erica Barkell came from Idaho to play and came out even at 3/6, to tie for 21st. Sarah May also tied for 21st, but should have had good tiebreakers, as she got to play both of the co-champs. Taylor Bailey of Oregon did them a half point better, tying for 12th with 3.5 points. Megan Lee outdid herself in this event. much like she did in the open. Megan went undefeated, scoring 4.5/6 to tie for 3rd place. Only her first round opponent was rated lower than herself. She drew with Janice Chen (UT, 1768), Sylvia Yang (TX, 1854) and Amelia Wheeless (NC. 1722), and defeated Ann Fitch (DE, 601). Jordana Williams (LA, 1776) and, in a final we-could-just-do-this-at-home game, Taylor Bailey (OR, 1652).

Daniel Yeager of PA won the U. S. Open Blitz with a score of 11/14. Marcus Robinson collected eight points to tie for 12th out of forty participants. Two former Northwest residents were present, Adam Weissbarth, now of PA and Riley Yates-Doerr, now of NJ. They both scored 9.5/ 14 to tie for 4th. Adam also played in the open, scoring 3.5 points before withdrawing prior to the seventh round.

A few final notes:

- 23 The weather was better this time, but 1 still don't recommend New Jersey in August.
- 23 They offered a "quick" schedule, where you still played one game a night, but the time control for the first six rounds was G/60. There were few entrants into that schedule, giving the higher rated players a great advantage over those in the more populated schedules. It seemed bizarre to me and I think they shouldn't repeat this idea.
 - There are way more Dunkin' Donuts in Jersey than Starbucks, but they don't have any Krispy Kremes.

Selzler Takes Two Titles at WA Blitz!

by NM Elliott Neff

The WCF-sanctioned WA State Blitz Cham pionships (five minutes per side for the whole game!) were held on July 21, 2007. Thanks to the efforts of Dan Matthews and Eddie Chang, the site was secured for this event at one of the most popular places to place chess in Bellevue—Crossroads Mall which features a giant wooden chess set and chess players playing at all hours when the mall is open! The tournament was planned to have mostly pre-registration and, with just 35 players pre-registered on Friday, we decided to combine the scholastic and open categories into one section. However, by noon on Saturday, there were 66 players present! The mall scrambled to provide a few extra tables, and the first round started shortly after 12:30 p.m. The format was a seven-round Swiss with two games, White and Black, per round. The field was very competitive, with the WA State Champion Ignacio

Elliott welcomes players to the WA Blitz Championships

Perez there, trying to add the title of WA State Blitz Champion to his strong performances this year. Other strong players included FM John Readey, NM Nat Koons, FM David Roper, Ricky Selzler, Josh Sinanan (rated over 2700 on the Internet Chess Club!). Bruce Kovalsky, etc., etc...there was even a contingent from Bellingham that came in for the challenge!

When 4 00 pm rolled around and scores were tallied, the surprise winner was Ricky Selzler, earning both the WA State Junior Blitz Champion (under age 21) and the WA State Blitz Champion titles with a VERY impressive score of 12.5/14, three points ahead of second place! There was some very exciting chess played that afternoon - players enjoyed the opportunity to stroll down to the food court when hungry - and quite a number of scholastic players had a good time, some for the first time competing in a Blitz tournament!

Second-fourth was shared by Sinanan, Perez, and Denis Janky with 9.5. In the scholastic section, Bob Alger, 12th grade, proved that his nerves were stronger than the rest by his strong finish of 11.5, closely followed by Jaan Budzianowski with 10.5 and Darren Hou with ten points. Tied for fourth were Daniel Hua and Wesley Yu with 9.5 each. Special congratulations to kindergartner Benjamin Yee for scoring six points from fourteen!!

With cash prizes in the open category, trophies in the scholastic category, and $100 in gift certificates donated by Uncle's Games, this was a very enjoyable event. Thanks to the players' assistance in following the requirements of the facility, keeping the tablecloths neat. keeping the fire lanes clear, etc. Crossroads Mall would like to invite the Blitz Championships back for next year if possible! A very big thank-you to Michael Cohn for managing much of the registration and pairings, while I was busy competing. Chess4Life was pleased to be able to help promote chess by hosting this event, providing online registration and tournament management.

NM Elliott Neff (L) battles Josh Sinanan (R) on Board One, while Ricky Selzler (LC), the tournament winner, competes on Board Two

Annotations by Drayton Harrison & FRIIZ 1.e4 c5 2.40c3 40c6 3.d3

If White intends to play the Grand Prix attack, then 3.f4 followed by 4.42f3 is a more energetic move order. 3.d3 blocks in the B ishop on fl.

3. 2 f3 is a sneaky move order. White waits to see what Black is doing before deciding what variation to play. White can still go into the Open Sicilian with 4.d4, but he has several ways to avoid whatever main line variation Black wants to play. For instance: 3...d6 and 3...e6 can be met by 4.2.b5, 3...g6 by 4.h4, 3... 16 by 4.e5, and 3... a6 by 4.g3.

3...q6 4.f4

Since White has already committed himself to d3 on the previous move, 4.g3 is the best option.

4....皇q7 5.皇e3 豐b6!?

This Queen move disrupts White from developing his pieces.

White has no time for this move. He must simply play 11. 2e2, preparing to castle; then he would only be worse, but not lost. Also 11.2c3 takes away the only retreat square from the knight on d5. 11...幻d4

This is not bad. But Black had an alternative in the surprising 11... 2xc3+! exchanging the "Dragon" Bishop to create a powerful center and some great squares for his Knights. Black's lead in development, permits him to rip open the center and get to White's uncastled King. With the dark-squared Bishop gone, Black should place his pawn center on the dark squares: 12. 2xc3 e5! 13.fxe5 That pesky Knight on g4 can't be evicted: 13.h3? ②e3 14.豐d2 exf4 15. ②d5 ②d4 16. 2 xe3 (16. 2 xd4 cxd4 17.h4 f5!-+: 16. ①xf4?? ②xf3+ 17. axf3 實h4+-+) and 13. 夕d5 is not to be feared: 13...f5!] 13... ②cxe5 14. ②xe5 dxe5 15. 豐f3 (15.h3?? 幽h4+: 15.单e2?? 包e3) 15...f5!

It was already too late for White to get castled: 12.\(\mathbb{Q}\)e2 e6 13.\(\varthi\)xd4 cxd4 14. £xq4 exd5-+.

12...e6 13.hxg4 exd5 14.4 xd4 cxd4

The tripled isolated pawns are NOT a weakness, but a strength!

15. 全b4 dxe4?!

15... 国e8!! is better. Then 16. 對f3 f5 17. 對h3 h6 and the pressure on e4 is too much for white to handle. Black would win quickly.

16.dxe4 里e8!17.单d3

This square would not have been available after 15... Ze8.

17...費f6 18.費f3 单d7

Black continues developing pieces, with an idea of playing ... $\mathbb{L}$c6. But the inaccuracy on move 15 gives white some time to castle his king to safety.

19. dd2??

This is the wrong square for the king because the bishop on b4 has no retreat square. It appears that white had some over-optimistic intention of attacking on the open h-file. But before starting an attack it is much more important to pay attention to the opponent's possibilities.

An instructive principle of the fianchettoed Bishop. Even though White has an attack on the h-file, with a Queen (worth nine points of force) and Rook (another five points), when the King steps aside the Black position is held together by the Bishop (only three points of force) and there is no mate. This economy of defensive force gives Black an overwhelming balance of attacking force (two Rooks, a Oueen and both Bishops, versus a Bishop and a Rook) on the rest of the chessboard. Even without the extra piece won earlier in the game, Black would be winning.

Hurt-Sheets, WA Championship 1941!

by IM John Donaldson

recently bought the The Chess Correspondent for 1943-44 and found the game Hurt-Sheets with annotations by Fred Reinfeld. Here is a little background material and the game.

J. L. (Jack Leonard) Sheets (1904-1980) won a record seven Washington State Championship titles ranging from 1932 to 1954. I can find only one tournament where Sheets played outside of the Northwest, but he did well, second in the Minor Tourney at Pasadena 1932 just behind many-time Nebraska Champion Reverend Howard Ohman (8.5 -1.5 to 8-2). Sheets retired from tournament play after winning his last championship. but was still involved in various solving competitions until the end of his life often at the top of the Northwest Chess problem solving ladder and high up in Problemist competitions. He retired from the post office in 1965 after 36 years. He served during the Second World War with the fleet post office in the Navy.

James Hurt grew up in San Francisco and spent most of his life in the Bay Area, where he is particularly well-remembered for the series of L.E.R.A. tournaments he organized in Sunnyvale for many years. Hurt went to college at the University of Washington, studying chemical engineering and living with his uncle in Seattle. During his stay in Washington state Hurt won four of the five state championships he competed in (1935, 1937, 1938 and 1941) finishing ahead of future U.S. national team member Olaf Ulvestad in 1935. The USCF honored Hurt in 1999 at the U.S. Open in Reno for his longtime work in teaching kids to play chess.

James Hurt, the champion, shows a faculty for intense and extended concentration. This indicates a healthy nervous system and a capacity for hard work. He exhibits excellent control under time-pressure.

Hurt's style is of a steady positional type, the basis of which is to allow the opponent as little opportunity for potent threats as possible, coupled with the vigilant avoidance of threats.

The following game doesn't show Sheets at his best.

Out of place in this opening. Black should simply continue with ... ②bd7 and ...e5; in this way he would obtain a good game and soon demonstrate the pointlessness of 對b3.

Black's pieces are very poorly placed, his prospects are meager, and the enemy's two Bishops are likely to become troublesome.

White has the choice between a3-a4 and b4-b5 (queenside attack) and g2-g4 (kingside attack). He decides in favor of the latter, since the crowded position of the Black pieces makes satisfactory defense impossible in the long run.

This is inconsistent. The King should flee to the queenside, which would greatly increase the difficulties of White's task.

Cherry Hill, cont'd from p. 9

- Fred and Carol Kleist were awarded the Outstanding Career Achievement award at the annual banquet this year. Previous Northwest winners of this award are Rusty Miller in 1990 and Robert Karch in 1993. Former Northwesterner John Donaldson received the award in 2003.
- Like in Oregon, you cannot pump your own gas in New Jersey.
- A Montana and Wyoming were the two states missing from the Denker.
- The 2008 Open will be held in Dallas, TX. (I'd rather go to Dallas, OR.) I think I'll be there, and hope you will, too. Especially all you missing adults....

USCF Meeting cont'd from p.6

- There is an upcoming international conference on Chess in Education to be held in Aberdeen, Scotland, and Dr. Alexey Root will chair a workshop at next year's U.S. Open in Dallas—Tim Redman, Chess-in-Education Committee
- A destitute New York City GM is being helped to find students and to negotiate lower rent—Fred Gruenberg, Professional Players Health and Benefits Committee

The first substantial order of business was consideration of the 2007-08 budget. It was deferred to the following day, as the copies of the proposed were late in being passed out. Also deferred was the hearing of Sam Sloan's appeal of decision of the Ethics Committee concerning statements he had made on one of the USCF for a during last year's election campaign. A sixty-page packet of documents was handed out at the beginning of the meeting, but no one had yet found time to read it. So we moved on to some minor motions, the most significant of which were the following:

The USCF Scholastic Council must be consulted if the USCF wishes to allow an outside organizer to hold national scholastic events.

The USCF will no longer give free memberships to U.S. GMs unless they specifically request such (an anti-Bobby Fischer measure—his membership was revoked after comments in support of the 9/11 terrorists).

On the second day, the budget which calls for an operating income of about $50,000, based chiefly on lowering expenses—tournament expenses being $80,000 lower and professional fees, $40,000 lower. The Sloan appeal took a little longer to consider, but most felt that his statements to the effect that Beatriz Marinello and Grant Perks had "committed crimes during the course of their duites at USCF... [were] made with a reckless disregard for their truth or falsehood." However, I was one of the handful that voted to overturn the Ethics Committee ruling, because no evidence was presented regarding the truth or falsehood of Sloan's assertions, nor was it shown that he knew, or should have known, that his claims were false.

After this, the delegates considered some fifteen to twenty motions. We approved an accounting change, cutting in half the amount of "life member dues recognized" for two years. The money was spent in the past, but not properly accounted for at the time. The effect of this measure will be to lower the USCF's stated income.

The delegates overturned last year's rule change requiring moves to be written down only after they had been played. Players may now revert 0 writing moves down first, but a "written move may not be changed until after" a move, though not necessarily the one written down, has been played.

The USCF was enjoined from scheduling a national event "in the same metrpolitan area on the same weekend as an established regional event." Such an event is defined as "having at least 75 players . . . on the same weekend the previous year."

Some measures that failed included an attempt to establish an adult membership without a subscription to Chess Life. The board is considering such a membership, but did not wish to be forced to implement it. Another failed measure would have required voting records of committee members to be published. Nor did the delegates approve free U.S. Open entry for participants in the Denker Tournament of High School Champions. Finally, the Forum Oversight Committee asked that its decisions be final with no possibility of appeal. The motion was defeated.
